'Lease-Lend' Bill Supporters Expect Victory In House

Passage Of Measure In House Predicted Today
By Administration Leaders

AMENDMENTS ARE CAUSE OF BATTLE
Some Concessions Have Been Made—Supporters Suffer One Rebuff In House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—With leaders demanding a solid democratic front against any further concessions to the opposition, the house today accepted an administration amendment designed to put congress on record as opposing entrance of American war or merchant ships into belligerent zones under the lease-lend bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Administration leaders predicted passage of the "lease-lend" bill by the house late today after another uproarious battle over amendments limiting power conferred on President Roosevelt.

Having made concessions and suffered one rebuff at the hands of the house, administration spokesmen declared that they were "over the hump" and foresaw passage of the measure by a decisive vote.

Leaders of the opposition, pitching their fight on the ground that the measure confers dictatorial powers on the president and is a step toward war, hoped to win their fight for drastic modifying amendments.

"The house will pass the bill by a 10-1 vote today," said Rep. Bloom (D. N. Y., chairman of the foreign affairs committee, in charge of the bill.

"The real fight comes today on the war-making powers conferred on the president in the bill and we have a good chance to modify the measure," said Rep. Fish (R. N. Y., opposition leader.

Major amendments before the house included:

1. Eaton substitute authorizing the president to grant $2,000,000,000 credit to Great Britain.
2. Wadsworth amendment limiting (Continued On Page Six)

Every once in a while the name of some street bobs up in the news of day's developments in this city, that few people were aware existed. Take for instance, on Thursday the name "Valentine street" appeared in a news item. Probab'ly very few persons in the city could locate it without making inquiries. It is a small street in the vicinity of South Croton avenue and Produce street.

From the appearance of many autos on a night after a snowstorm, it is evident that there are many machines that stand out in the weather all night.

Highway and street department workers had to renew their battle with slippery streets again this (Continued On Page Two)

Daylight Raids On Britain Resumed

Lone Nazi Raider Appears Over East Anglian Coast Town With Bombs

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 7.—Germany resumed daylight raids on Britain today after a quiet night. The day's first attack came when a lone Nazi raider bombed an east Anglian coast town, where some persons were killed and others wounded.

The plane dived low and raked the town with machine gun fire before losing its bombs.

Its attack, however, may have resulted in the plane's destruction. Ground fire replied to the raid, and as the Nazi plane sped away, it trailed a streak of smoke.

Dunlap Declares City Anxious To Get Busses

Director of streets William H. Dunlap today stated that the city is anxious to have busses substituted for street cars but the city will insist that the city be protected against loss by the move.

He made the statement today in city hall when questions concerning the effort launched last month by the New Castle Electric Street railway to have the city permit the voiding of franchises.

Director Dunlap explained that data is now being compiled and proposed new legislation being written and there is a possibility the matter will come to a head next week.

Two Hurt As Truck Crashes

Rescuers Work Nearly Two Hours To Extricate One Man From Wreckage

ACCIDENT OCCURS ON HARBOR HILL

Two men were injured, one seriously, when a big truck owned by the Interstate Trucking company of Michigan City, Ind., skidded off the highway and overturned against a tree on the Harbor hill, Route 422, as they were going down the hill, headed west, shortly after 6 o'clock this morning.

The driver, Clarence Kellogg, aged about 25, of 221 East Sixth street, Michigan City, Ind., suffered cuts of the hands and head, and chest injuries. His companion, Robert Young of Jackson street, Michigan City, suffered a fracture of the right leg above the knee, and lacerations of the left arm.

Young's right arm was pinned between the cab of the truck and a tree, and wreckers worked for almost two hours before he could be extricated. The truck jack-knifed around the tree and the tree was finally pulled out by the roots, before the injured man could be gotten loose. Kellogg was admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 6:40, while Young was not brought in until 7:45 o'clock.

They were enroute to Chicago with a large cargo of merchandise when the accident occurred.

Harlansburg Road To East Brook-Volant Road Tightly To Be Improved

Bids for the completion of Route 37023, between the Harlansburg road and the East Brook-Volant road will be opened and contracts awarded by the state highway department on February 21, it was announced today. The contract will call for the construction of 13,667 linear feet of type "B" base with a bituminous surface. In short, a black top road surface. A year ago the highway department completed the highway from Route 422 at Waigletown to the Harlansburg road and the East Brook-Volant road will complete the link from the Ellwood road at Enery. When completed the road will be a short cut from the Beaver Valley to the Perry highway.

Senate's Overseas Veterans See Talk About Invasion Of U. S. By Nazis As Rather 'Fantastic'

(Editor's Note: The claim of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh that the United States is not threatened by invasion, has touched off heated discussion in congress. The following story presents the views of six U. S. Senators who served overseas in the great world war a score of years ago.)

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A poll of the senate's overseas veterans of the first world war today disclosed they are two to one in the opinion that Germany cannot invade the United States, if Britain is defeated.

The majority described talk of such an invasion as "fantastic" and "preposterous." The minority, who regarded such an invasion as "possible," based their views upon the "if" of Germany seizing control of both the British and French war fleets.

Discount European Invasion Too

Speaking from their own experience in World War I, the senate AEF veterans, however, were unanimous in discounting the possibility of the United States invading Europe to help Britain defeat Germany. Development of military aviation as a defensive weapon, the vast spaces of the Atlantic, and Germany's hold on European ports were cited as the reason why they believe such an invasion would be impossible.

One of the veterans—Senator Millard J. Tydings (D. Md., who rose from the ranks to a lieutenant-colonelcy on French battlefields—held a German invasion of the United States might be possible with a big "if." This was his "if":

"If Britain were defeated and the British navy fell into Axis hands, then by using the combined German-British-Japanese-Italian and French navies, with the huge (Continued On Page Two)

FOUR EXECUTED IN S. CAROLINA

Mass Execution Takes Place At Prison In Columbia, South Carolina

(International News Service)
COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 7.—In the second largest mass execution of white men in South Carolina's history, four convicts died today in the state prison's electric chair at Columbia.

The men were Hugh Evans, 22, a plumber; his brother, Willis Evans, 20, a farmer; Hampton Lee, 26, a laborer, and J. C. Hann, 27.

The death march began at 6:30 a. m. EST, and 35 minutes later the last of the four was pronounced dead.

The Evans brothers and Lee were convicted on charges growing out of the abduction, robbery and mistreatment of a young white woman—a member of one of the state's most prominent families—after they had slugged her escort into unconsciousness. Hann was electrocuted for the murder of Ruby Boling, at Easley, S. C., June 6, 1939, whom he slashed to death with a razor. All four men confessed their crimes before going to the chair.

New Negotiations Follow Marshall Petain's Reply

(International News Service)
VICHY, France, Feb. 7.—French Navy Minister Admiral Jean Darlan plunged into new negotiations with authorities in Paris today after handing over Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain's reply to the latest German demands.

Last night, it was learned, Darlan held a long talk with Fernand De Brunon, French ambassador to Paris. The French navy chief is expected to return to Vichy tomorrow.

All Vichy waited expectantly for further word regarding the Paris negotiations, particularly as they concern former Vice Premier Pierre Laval, who was ousted from the government by Petain last December, and whom the Germans want restored to a commanding position in the Vichy regime.

CAIRO, Feb. 7.—Following a patch smashed for them by R. A. F. bombers, British and Australian troops have captured Bengazi, last Italian stronghold in eastern Libya, the British high command in Cairo announced today.

British officials in London confirmed that Bengazi had been captured but said they had received no details regarding the final attack. They declared they understood a heavy sandstorm was raging in the Bengazi area.

Final Attack

Military quarters in Cairo said the final attack on Bengazi was carried out by ground forces in co-operation with aerial and naval forces.

Occupation of Bengazi by the British imperial forces marked the fourth major Libyan base to fall into British hands since the start of the western British "blitz" advance. The others were Bardia, Tobruk and Derna.

The fall of Bengazi constitutes an (Continued On Page Eight)

Build 1,000 War Planes In Month

Production Shows Increase In U. S.

Output For February Will Reach 1250 Military Planes Is Forecast

MANY ARE BEING SENT TO BRITAIN

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—American military aircraft production in January soared to a record high of 1,000 airplanes, national defense officials revealed today.

At least 500 of these planes will be delivered to the British government under President Roosevelt's announced policy of "rule-of-thumb" in determining Anglo-American priorities.

Billions of dollars that are being poured into the aviation industry slowly are showing the desired result of stimulated production. In December the rate of completion on military airplanes was in the neighborhood of 800. In November, when Defense Director William S. Knudsen reported production was 30 per cent behind schedule, the output was 700 military aircraft.

1,250 In February
Authoritative government aviation sources forecast February military airplane production would reach about 1,250, with the rate of output accelerating substantially during the spring months.

Officials refused to disclose how many of the 1,000 planes turned out in January were bombers. They reported, however, that about 450 were combat types and 550 were training planes. "It has been the approximate construction ratio in previous months."

In addition to the output of military planes, American plants are continuing to roll a substantial number of commercial and private aircraft off assembly lines.

At the moment, there is considerable controversy within the administration over the ultimate disposition of the commercial planes. The army wants to use them for military purposes. The navy and the civil aeronautics authority are opposing such a step, the navy basing its opposition on its desire to see that Pan American Airways gets more planes for trans-oceanic and Latin-American operations.

Deliveries To British
Meanwhile, other aviation sources disclosed that deliveries of the Martin light bomber to the British have reached the rate of "several a day." These airplanes are heavily armored, capable of a 300 mile per hour speed, and have proved their value to the British during recent war operations in the Mediterranean.

Secretary of the Navy Knox said he was "highly gratified" by the increase in plane deliveries to the navy.

"Our government owned naval factory in Philadelphia is turning out better than one a day of trainers," Knox went on.

"The outlook for the future is greatly improved. Formerly manufacturers were behind schedule 30 per cent, but recently they have been approximating their schedules and we hope in the future they will even exceed it."

FLYING LABORATORY BOMBER IS WRECKED; EIGHT AIRMEN KILLED

chum, co-pilot, second in command and was en route from McClellan field, Sacramento to Wright field, Dayton, O.

Capt. Freeman, a native of Winamac, Ind., was an outstanding army pilot. He led a squadron of six bombers on a goodwill flight to Rio de Janeiro in 1939, and only a few hours before the ill-fated flight yesterday he had received the Mackay trophy for distinguished engineering service. Others listed aboard the plane were:

Technical Sgt. Kay H. Galbreath, 39, of Clinchport, Va.
Sgt. Joseph P. Davis, 31, of (240 Schenck Ave.) Dayton, O.
Sgt. Frank C. Widden, 23, Hanes City, Fla.

Sgt. Elmer S. Trainer, 33, of San Jose, Cal.
Sgt. Everett Crable, (home address not immediately available)
Pvt. First Class Charles E. Applegate, 20, of Canon City, Colo.

Crashes Soon After Takeoff
The giant ship crashed little more than an hour after taking off from Sacramento. Time of the wreck was established by Lloyd M. Carpenter, CCC camp foreman, who witnessed the crash and reached the scene less than half an hour later.

"When we arrived, the ship was a mass of flames," he said. "It seemed to me the plane was on fire before it struck. There was a loud explosion and black smoke billowed up."

The mountainside was scarred by fire for some 100 square yards. One wing was some distance from the mass of twisted burned metal that remained of the big ship. The four engines were torn loose from the fuselage.

Capt. Freeman had been conducting experiments in Alaska preliminary to increase of the army air force in the far north. The ship was on its way back to Fairbanks after reporting to Wright field laboratories, to pioneer the use of new equipment which was expected to make flights feasible in weather as low as 70 degrees below zero.

No Sabotage Evidence
Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 7.—There was no evidence of sabotage on the army's four-motored experimental bomber which crashed near Loveland, Nev., yesterday, killing eight flyers, Col. F. C. Nelson, commanding officer at Sacramento air depot, said today. Col. Nelson said McClellan field, where the ship was hangered, had been under stringent guard for the past year.

Extraordinary precautions had been taken at the air depot to maintain constant guard over the flying fortress during its Sacramento stay. The plane was equipped with the army's secret bombsight and other elaborate equipment, air officials confirmed.

The new devices included controls to drain oil from the motors as soon as the powerful engines were turned off. Automatic shutters were fitted over the engines cowlings to retain heat. Insulated oil pipes to insure lubrication to the propeller domes in abnormally low flying temperatures were a particular feature.

Electrically heated flying suits for the aviators inside the cabin were another feature.

Air depot officials said Capt. R. S. Freeman, the pilot, had planned to confer with army laboratory experts at Wright field, Dayton, O., on the progress of his experiments in the Arctic.

Richmond, Va., is often called the Modern Rome because, like the ancient city of Rome, Italy, it is built on seven hills.

Italy isn't discouraged yet. Her newspapers and broadcasters are still valiantly sinking British ships.

SENATE OVERSEAS VETERANS SEE TALK AS RATHER FANTASTIC

Axis armies being ready, an invasion might be possible now. One reason would be that the Axis powers would have a 2 or 3 to 1 naval superiority, about 6 to 1 air superiority and about 10 to 1 troop superiority.

Need Big Combination
"All these favorable factors would have to be combined. Without one of them, invasion of this continent would be problematical."

"As for us invading Europe, in our present state of preparedness, it would take us years to get ready for it."

Senator C. Wayland Brooks (R) Ill., a Marine who was wounded seven times in action, called a German invasion of the U. S. impossible. He felt the same way about the U. S. invading Europe.

Brooks said: "Twenty-two years ago, with a stable front line in France, with England, France and Belgium holding it, with Italy and Japan arrayed on the Allied side, with the British, French, Italian and Japanese fleets combined, and in complete control of the oceans, we had to send under their protection and with their help 2,000,000 men to France. Now with Germany in command of Belgium and France with the German, Italian and Japanese fleets cooperating with Germany's air force strong enough to destroy our ships, it is folly to suggest that we could now attempt to invade Europe."

Can't Invade U. S.
"Nor can Germany with her navy or the combined navies of her partners invade us. Aircraft has proved to be an effective opponent of seapower. Supported by an adequate air force and the advantage of shore defenses, there is no possible danger of direct invasion of our country."

Senator Champ Clark (D) Mo., an overseas infantry colonel who helped organize the American Legion, said: "From a military standpoint, both American invasion of Europe and German invasion of the United States are perfectly preposterous. If the Germans can't cross the English Channel, it's perfectly ridiculous to say they can cross 3,000 miles of ocean. If we were able only to land troops on the European continent in the last war by complete control of all their ports, it's perfectly absurd to talk of landing a considerable expeditionary force on a hostile shore. The matter of supply, communication and transfer of necessary munitions makes it impossible. No responsible military man in the world will say that it can be done."

Invasion Harder
Senator Harold H. Burton (R) O., overseas captain of infantry, said: "With the development of aviation, the opinion of army experts is that any offensive between continents has become much more difficult than at the time of the first world war. You can defend a continent with aviation easier now than in the first world war. I say this while distinguishing between bombing raids and actual invasion."

Senator Guy Gillette (D) Ia., also an overseas infantry captain, said: "I think it is fantastic to speak of a German invasion of the U. S. It would require such a stupendous preparation in the way of transporting troops under air and naval protection, besides establishment of communications and supply lines, that I believe it to be impossible and without any hope of success."

Gillette added that it would be "extremely difficult" for the U. S. to invade Europe, even while using British bases. The problem, he said, would be "one of the most difficult military and naval problems which could be envisioned."

Senator Chas. McNary (R) S. D., an engineer sergeant overseas, shared Tydings' "if." He said that if the Germans got the British and French fleets, "they could make it mighty tough for us" but "without those fleets, there would be no immediate danger of invasion."

Mrs. Clara B. Taylor
Mrs. Clara B. Taylor, aged 63, of 308 Pearson street, died suddenly this morning at 8:30 o'clock at her home. Although Mrs. Taylor had been an invalid for several years, her death at this time was unexpected.

Mrs. Taylor was born in Butler county on March 3, 1877, daughter of Charles and Barbara Montgomery Taylor. She was a member of the First Baptist church.

Three brothers, William Taylor of Ellwood City, James and Wilbert Taylor, Butler county, and three sisters, Mrs. Calvin Sloan, Butler county, Mrs. E. L. Taylor and Miss Julia Taylor, New Castle, survive.

The body has been removed to the Campbell funeral home, East North street. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Emma Lawton Ryder
Mrs. Emma Lawton Ryder, aged 82, a highly respected citizen of Volant R. D. 2, passed away at her residence this morning at 1:30 o'clock. Death was caused by infirmities of age.

Born in Staffordshire, England, on March 11, 1858, daughter of John and Mary Oaks Lawton, Mrs. Ryder had been a resident of Volant for 35 years. She would have been married 64 years to Henry Ryder, who preceded her in death 14 years ago. She was a faithful member of the Nazareth Methodist church.

Surviving are the following children: Harry Elliott, William and James, all of Volant R. D. 2, Mrs. Lillian Fox of Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. Bertie Anderson of Butler R. D. 4; one sister, Mrs. George Reynolds of England; 24 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Cunningham funeral home, Leesburg, with Rev. William A. Lloyd in charge. Interment will be in Woodland cemetery, Grove City.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Jacob Sponski
Mrs. Nellie Sponski, aged 58, wife of Jacob Sponski, Wampum R. D. 1, Wayne township, passed away this morning at 8:30 o'clock, the result of a stroke suffered last Monday, February 3, at about noon. A resident of Wayne township for 40 years, Mrs. Sponski was well liked and highly respected.

Mrs. Sponski, a daughter of Jacob and Anna Cochran Fray, was a member of St. Monica's church in Wampum. She and Mr. Sponski had been married for 40 years.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are the following children: Mrs. Mary Deloski of Castlewood, Mrs. Cora Kiehar, Mrs. Josephine Cieshinski, Mrs. Lucille Ahonski, all of New Castle; two brothers, Anthony Fray of Wampum R. D. 1 and Thomas Fray of Canada; six grandchildren and one nephew, Joseph Smialek of Edinboro.

The body will be taken to the residence Saturday morning from the Marshall funeral home in Wampum. Funeral services will be held from St. Monica's church Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock with Rev. Fr. Edmund Rowan in charge. Interment will be in St. Agatha's cemetery, Ellwood City.

Clarence T. Miller.

Complications caused the death of Clarence T. (Cal) Miller, aged 72, of 1117 Lorain avenue, who passed away at his home Thursday evening at 7:20 o'clock.

Born in New Castle, October 14, 1868, son of J. W. and Mary Jane Edwards Miller, he spent all his life in this city. He had worked for the Lehigh Cement company for the past seven years, and previously, had been a blacksmith and auto mechanic for a number of years. Mr. Miller was a member of the Second U. P. church and the Maccabees.

Surviving are his wife, Agnes B. Miller, two daughters, Mrs. Agnes Kuth, this city, Mrs. Margaret Critchlow, McKeesport; one son, Clarence Miller, this city; two brothers, Wallace Miller of New Castle, Bert Miller of Long Beaver, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. O. E. Druley of Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. W. E. Caldwell, New Castle; 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Jos. S. Rice company chapel East North street, with Rev. F. W. Parks, pastor of the Dewey Avenue Free Methodist church, in charge. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

The family will receive friends at the funeral chapel this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock and Saturday afternoon and evening from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

McCandless Funeral.

Funeral services for Russell H. McCandless, 446 County Line street, were conducted Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence with Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the Second U. P. church, and Rev. Robert Meade Patterson, pastor of Central Presbyterian church, in charge.

Palbearers were John Dadds, Gomer Eagan, Harry Crammer, Paul McCandless, Albert McCandless and Henry Tebay.

Interment was in Graceland cemetery.

Pollock Funeral.

Rev. J. A. Cousins, pastor of the Croton Methodist church, and Rev. Edgar Doverspike, of Clarksville, led a service of funeral services for John Pollock, Ellwood, held Tuesday afternoon from Sharp's funeral home, New Wilmington. Mr. Pollock was killed last Saturday night in an accident on Youngstown hill.

Palbearers were: E. Reese, Lloyd Mitchell, Russell Mitchell, Angelo Keros, Walter Mitchell and Gaylord Cameron.

Interment was in Neshannock cemetery.

Funeral For Veteran.

Funeral services for Hugh Thomas Wilson, Civil War veteran from Jackson Center, were conducted Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Greenwood Methodist church, Ellwood road. Rev. Abram P. Shaffer, East Brook Methodist church pastor, officiated.

Two favorite hymns of the deceased were sung.

morning. Snowfall of the night was just heavy enough to provide some skidding problems for traffic. Autoists slithered around on some of the streets and highways until the ashing crews made their appearance.

With Wampum high boys taking the lead in the basketball league of the county, without a playing floor in the town, other teams will have to look out next season when the school expects to have the new gymnasium ready for use. The erection of the gymnasium at the school has been approved so that it is expected work can start shortly.

RAINBOW DANCE PLANS ANNOUNCED

Announcement is made by Mrs. John Templeton, chairman of the dance committee of the Advisory Board of New Castle Assembly, Order of the Rainbow, that the date for the Scotch Dance, has been changed from Friday evening, February 28, to Saturday evening, March 1. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

Formal afternoon dress will be worn by the girls instead of semi-formal and the boys will not be expected to furnish flowers. Many surprise features are being planned by dance committee for that evening.

ALICE RENTZ CIRCLE ENTERTAINS AT TEA

In the Community room of the Epworth Methodist church, Tuesday evening, members of the Alice Rentz Missionary Circle gave a tea for their mothers and friends.

The program opened with a vocal duet by Betty and Lois Hogue, and a play entitled "Such A Lovely Meeting" was given by members of the circle.

Several piano selections were played by Alice Jones, and the program closed with vocal numbers by Leah Lash and Delores Beighley.

Dainty refreshments were served and tea was poured by the hostesses in charge.

MISSIONARY GROUP HAS FINE PROGRAM

An entertaining program was presented Thursday evening when members of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church gathered in the church parlors, with the Alma Broadhead Circle in charge.

Verle Armstrong was program chairman for the evening and introduced Mrs. Stanley Reese who led the group in singing the theme song. A question and answer period on "China" was enjoyed with Genevieve Schugars, Frances Haydon and Miss Armstrong taking part.

Vocal numbers by Frances Cook and Wilda McConahy were well received, after which living pictures of women in the Bible were portrayed by Jocelyn Druschel, Carol Irwin, Sara Cappa, Patricia Druschel and Grace Kish. Readers were Charlotte Emery and Florence Davis, and music throughout was played by Mrs. Harvey Brenner.

On March 6, the group will meet in the afternoon for their regular monthly meeting.

ALICE YOUNG CIRCLE AT WALFORD HOME

Members of the Alice Young Circle of the Woman's Christian Service, Group 5, of Epworth Methodist church, met Thursday evening in the home of Amy Walford on Morton street, with Dorothy Ward conducting the devotional period.

After an exchange of names for "mystery sisters" the study book was given by Emma Lou Day.

A social period was enjoyed when the hostess served a tasty lunch, with Agnes Chamberlain, aiding.

The next meeting will be held in the form of a tureen dinner at the home of Miss Day on Hazel street, Thursday, March 6.

C. R. C. CLUB ENJOYS INFORMAL ASSEMBLY

Delightfully informal was the meeting of the C. R. C. club held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. William Casto, nee Marjorie Howard, in her home on East Madison avenue, with Mrs. Johnnie Earle as a special guest.

Attention was given to tables of 500 with Miss Elizabeth Dickson and Mrs. Glen Tindall winning prizes. A special hostess gift was presented to Mrs. Earl, and she also aided in serving a dainty repast at the individual tables which were rearranged in the season's motif.

The next meeting will be held February 20 at a suburban tea room with Miss Dickson and Mrs. Forbie Pitzer, Jr. co-hostesses.

AMERICA'S FOOD

BRITAIN'S imminent move to compel mills to raise their flour extraction from wheat so that more of the wheat will go into human consumption and less to livestock is accompanied by another order that will bring about more potato consumption.

This measures Britain's expectation of the Nazi levy upon its shipping in the spring. It also hints at what the European nations under the British blockade must be up against in the form of food shortages.

Britain's blockade is apparently being aided by the weather. The European winter of 1939-40 was extremely cold and reduced European production during the following summer. This winter is apparently extraordinarily severe and crop production in Europe next summer, particularly in view of the disorder ruling there, will not set a record. Add low production to an effective blockade and the result is a situation that is certain to cripple the aggressors and incite to thoughts of revolt.

In the meantime the American winter is ideal for crops. America stands to add to its already bulging granaries and be more influential than ever in a hungry, oppressed world.

VALENTINES

Fashions come and go, but one old custom, that of sending Valentines on February 14, never dies not. The eternal mystery and attraction of love never changes with the fads of the moment.

Back in ancient history, names of young men and women were put in boxes. Anyone desiring the companionship of the opposite sex could draw out a name and the two thus chosen by chance were supposed to "keep company" for a year.

Countless lovers used to address sugary missives, all dolled up with pictures of hearts and cupids, to fair maidens, and tremble with fear to see how the adored one took it. She was not commonly offended. Today valentines are a pretty way of showing sentimental interest, without meaning so much by it.

The young lady does not expect an immediate call to the ministers, merely because she received a nice valentine on February 14.

CHANGING PATTERN

Railroads, particularly transcontinental roads, are handling largely increased freight traffic for several reasons, some of them most interesting in relation to the economic future of America.

Chief of these is the fact that defense industries are not always being located so as to be near sources of basic materials or points of consumption, but rather in areas safe from invasion or bombardment and where labor supplies are available.

This means that materials for some plants are being shipped long distances to point of fabrication and the finished products sometimes given another long haul. This latter statement does not apply to airplane plants, whose product can deliver itself.

Will these plants now operating for defense continue in peace time off the hitherto beaten track of industry? Doubtless they will and in that prospect is continuing heavy business for the railroads and a demonstration to the nation of the feasibility of industry in the central part of the country.

SANTA CLAUS UNMASKED

Current plans now call for raising $1,000,000,000 or more per year through new taxes and increases in existing taxes. And this is but a start—we can't build and maintain a twenty or thirty billion dollar military defense establishment on deficits.

The next incapable step will be to assess direct taxes against a larger proportion of our population. That has already been done to a minor extent, through reductions in Federal income tax exemptions approved by the last Congress. The new Congress will have to go to much greater lengths in this direction to raise needed revenue.

The old theory that we can support the government, no matter how costly it is, by the easy expedient of soaking the rich, is at last exposed. The rich—and this goes for industries, no less than for individuals—have about reached the limit of their ability to pay, without bringing business to a standstill. New revenue, in large amounts, can be raised now only by going after those whose incomes fall in the middle and lower brackets.

This will give millions of people their first real and personal knowledge of the stake they have in government spending and government debts. It will show them who, in the long run, Santa Claus is, and why thrift in government is as indispensable as thrift in the home. Indirect taxation, no matter how heavy, is hidden from, and unknown to a majority of the people. It is direct taxation that hurts. When you get a statement from the Bureau of Internal Revenue telling you to remit five or ten or fifty dollars you begin to understand that your interest in the cost of government is just as real as your interest in the cost of groceries or rent or clothes.

We are to have taxation on a scale we never dreamed of. The shock will be good for us. We will take a new interest in "our" government as we learn that we are Santa Claus.

Man is consistent. He saves wild life for hunters to kill and save babies to make cannon fodder.

Italy has called in 1,600 tons of nickel coins. But Italy's chance of hitting the jackpot are mighty slim.

Probably if the opportunity arose, Hitler would gladly trade Italy's "aid" for a cargo of good American wheat.

In the good old days there was intense interest in the origin of man. Now everybody is worried about whether man is finished.

In this music far probably "Hello, Central, Give Me Heaven" has not been revived because the dial system has been so widely adopted.

Fifteen major enactments reached the statute books in 100 days following President Roosevelt's first inauguration. But Congress couldn't be expected to maintain such a pace forever.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PLEA FOR RATE LEARNING

Some time ago, in this column, I pleaded in behalf of the forgotten memory. I deplored the fad at school of having children learn practically nothing by heart, the outcome of teachings and writings by certain educational philosophers who, always warning against "indoctrination," have indoctrinated many who are teaching our children, with the belief that it were almost a sin to have a child learn anything by heart.

These wreckers of rote learning have pretty well annihilated it, not only in day schools but also in Sunday schools, especially among younger children. Accordingly, in school, the child is not set to learn anything. He is to get endless impressions. He is to be exposed to all sorts of "life experiences" and talk about them, lots of talk. If he happens in the process to remember a few facts or gain some skills, very well but he is not to be encumbered with such minor matters. Facts and skills are to come incidentally, sort of by accident. But how few the accidents!

Memorizing Necessary

Woe to this child when he enters high school where some rote learning is required for success in practically every academic subject. How far will he progress in history or science if he has not practiced learning by heart some facts and symbols? Of course, there is a rare genius, one among 10,000, who has such a keen memory that facts stick without any effort on his part. But that is not true of the majority of students.

In my previous article I said that practically anything worth learning (as to meaning) was worth remembering and that, as a rule, as soon as the meaning of a fact was acquired it should be memorized.

Learn Preamble By Heart

Now I would go still further and maintain that a good many things should be memorized before they are fully understood, such as certain useful symbols, certain gems of literature, and certain statements which symbolize our American way, as the Pledge to the Flag, and the Preamble to the Constitution. Let the child learn with precision such precious items early and repeat them often under a guidance which will gradually reveal to him their true meaning. Even to you and me their meaning gradually grows richer. So does the meaning of the Twenty-third Psalm or the Lord's Prayer. How many of us ever would have learned it if we had waited till we were sure we understood it.

I wish my fellow parents and their children, in the United States, would all say over and over the Preamble of the Constitution of the United States, until they had learned it by heart, and then continue saying it frequently as a kind of family ritual. I wish also this were done in schools, even in the lower grades. Here it is:

"We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

I wish those who read this would clip it and pin it on the wall. It would be even better if a parent or child were to print in large letters a beautiful copy of this on cardboard to be displayed on the home wall. Why not the same in the classroom of the United States?

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Is generous praise of the child wholesome?

A. As a rule, yes, if honest and for something the child has gained by effort and self-sacrifice.

The World and the Mud Puddles

AN OLD TRICK

Want to get rich quick, end worry and all care? If so, one way now to do it is to advance money to get a "wrongfully imprisoned rich man" out of jail. Too many persons, unfortunately, are just that glibly. Herbert Neile, American attaché in Mexico City, declared in San Francisco last week that probably as much as $500,000 annually is bilked from guileless tourists in Mexico City by smooth-working crews of confidence men.

Most Americans who are thus fleeced are too embarrassed to complain later. An exception is the eminent San Francisco clergyman who, though swindled in the ancient Spanish prisoner confidence game, frankly confessed the fact. His revelations have now brought to trial a Federal court in San Francisco to members of a confidence gang who wheeled from him a check for $3650 during his visit to Mexico City last year.

The time-worn racket has worked in this fashion: Persons posing as relatives of an imprisoned banker, approached the American pastor. For $3650, they said, they could bribe the guard at the prison to smuggle out the banker's suitcase containing a $15,000 check and a claim check for a trunk containing $285,000 in United States government bonds. For his aid, the pastor was to receive $100,000 worth of the bonds. So went the hoax, and so went the 3650 good American dollars.

Let tourists eat, drink and be wary!

Hints On Etiquette

It is not good form to spread jelly or jam on bread at the table. Jelly or jam should be conveyed to the mouth on the top of the fork, after eating a small portion of bread.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:25; sun rises tomorrow 7:03.

A preacher declared in Pittsburgh that America is even further behind in strengthening the spiritual defense than it is in material and military defense. We don't seem to be progressing along very many lines.

A business man had complained about the speed of the fire trucks on downtown streets. Recently this same business man's home was threatened. Now the man says "The boys don't drive those trucks a bit too fast."

"The Star Spangled Banner" is worth all it costs to protect it—and a thousand times more.

The chief objection to love and marriage at first sight is the danger of repentance at first sight of the family.

Would it be proper to refer to a snorer as a "sound" sleeper?

After a man sits around all day on Sunday in the living room of his home he most always agrees with his wife that new furniture is needed. In the summer time no one sees the furniture in a living room.

This is the way the wife of a local nagger addressed her husband the other day: "How do you like my spring hat, 'you old brute'?"

ANCIENT RIDDLES
At what time of day was Adam born? A little before Eve.
Which is the oldest piece of furniture in the world? The multiplication table.

Why is a cherry like a book? Because it is read (red).
Which is the most dangerous bat that flies in the air? A brickbat.
If an egg could speak what preserver would it name? Ma-me-laid (marmalade).

The best evidence that a man has caught some good fish while on a fishing trip is when he sends some back home to his friends. We don't want any!

Only way to please all the neighbors would be to paint the house six or seven colors.

When people stand with their backs to a fire they always want to get the heat as near to them as possible.

WHY CHARLIE BEAT IT
The joke is on our old friend, Charlie.

When a crowd of people called at Charlie's home one night to give him a surprise party, he ran out of the back door and was away from town several days.

Charlie thought the crowd was a mob intending to whip him. You see, Charlie has been calling on a woman who has a husband.

"I never knew until I got a car," said the sweet young thing "that profanity was so prevalent." "Do you hear much of it on the road?" "Nearly every one I bump into swears dreadfully" replied the girl.

It is the small rackets that cause people to become suspicious. They throw body and soul into the big rackets.

Conversation heard at a soda fountain:
"My wife uses lipstick that sure tastes queer."
"I say she do."
"What you say?"
"I say, do she?"

Two men, so the story goes, were attending the San Francisco exposition together and dropped in to see Sally Rand's nude ranch. While watching an unusually shapely girl, unfettered by extra clothing, trotting by on a horse, one of the men exclaimed:

"Say, Bill, isn't that a lovely horse the gal's riding? Best looking horse I've seen in many a day."

In some places 13 people are selected on one jury in court trials. Bet the loser blames it on the 13.

There are always fights in politics. If the two parties are not fighting the members of both parties are fighting among themselves.

DOUBTFUL
"Is this your car?" demanded the traffic cop as the man approached a machine parked at a fire plug.

"Officer, I sometimes doubt it," said the L. H. man. "Seeing that I owe 23 installments on it, haven't paid five repair bills, owe for a new tire and bought the gasoline on credit, I think you'd better give the ticket to the real owners."

THE HORSE LAUGH
In the horse parade one steed ridden by a pretty woman kept whinnying. (Ever hear that word before?)

By the way, what is the origin of the term "horse laugh?"

A horse is retired when about 20 years old.

Man seldom retires before he becomes 60.

And when a horse heard about that, the horse laughed.

Good Taste

By E. A. Patent Office

A bird in Connecticut gave as an excuse for escaping from jail that he did not like the food. Perhaps he wanted poundcake and pie.

We know a chap who claims that his brains are his stock in trade, but the chap has an odd looking sample case.

In our neighborhood a little girl came recently. It was her first visit to the country for an over-night stay and she certainly enjoyed the outing.

"Well," said the hostess to the child, who had been romping with the woman's husband, "how did you enjoy the ride on uncle's shoulders?" "Oh, it was nice," the child enthused, "but I have been promised a ride on a real donkey tomorrow."

Answer: It would be my guess that what this man needs most is a responsible position that will keep him busy daily from nine to five and cause him to rise early each morning and lead regular habits throughout each day. People living in retirement or semi-retirement are usually morbid and inactive. They rise late in the morning, have nothing to do all day and have great difficulty in falling to sleep the next night. So, soon they decide that they have insomnia and begin taking sedatives when they retire. By so doing, they reduce their daily energy and start on a vicious circle.

Of course, if your man has active work with a hopeful prospect, but still appears chronically "dopey" on social occasions he needs either a hospital check-up or a good hard jolt that will prove to him that if he wants you to go along with him, he will have to snap out of his coma. And you are the proper one to administer that.

Question: Should a guest rise or remain seated when the host or hostess rise to greet another caller—also when they rise to say goodbye to the caller? What is correct in the cases of both a man and a woman?—H. H.

Answer: The guest, if a woman, should remain seated even while being introduced and when the caller goes, unless the caller is an elderly woman or someone whose rank demands this great respect. She should of course rise to greet her hostess. A man should rise to greet, accept an introduction and say goodbye to the caller, whether a man or a woman. He should rise every time a woman rises and remain standing until she is seated.

Answer to J. B. D.—I think you are a little young to take the matter so seriously. Try going around with friends of your own age.

Answer to "Two Young Girls"—(1) A man should not give his fiancée anything that might be regarded as wearing apparel. (2) Say: "I am very happy to have met you." If she has not yet met your mother, suggest a meeting date for them. They really should be acquainted as soon as the engagement is announced, if possible. (3) Yes, send him an invitation.

It looks as if this year will be the biggest year in automobile killings ever known if the month of January is anything to go by. Killings are plentiful on the new dream highway also.

Now we are told that older men are being taken into industry. You can talk as you please, but the old boys have the experience and that is what counts in an emergency.

One of these days the world will be like you want it, but you won't be here.

Mark Twain was a banquet. He was called on to speak and acquitted himself in his usual, humorous manner. Following him a lawyer was asked to speak. The attorney got up, thrust one hand in his pocket and said:

"Doesn't it seem strange that a professional humorist should be really funny?"

Twain got up to reply:

"Doesn't it seem strange that a lawyer should have his hand in his own pocket?"

Only Few Know What Britain Wants
More Handful In Capitol On Inside
British Purchasing Agent Secretive

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Just what Britain wants in the way of war supplies from this country is known to only the merest handful of men in Washington.

Arthur Purvis, head of the British purchasing mission here, knows. He tells it positively to nobody but President Roosevelt. Even Purvis' subordinate buying agents aren't informed in detail. Each has his own particular job to attend to and understands what is expected of him, but they're not allowed to hunt to find another. Purvis alone is familiar with the whole scheme.

That purchasing mission's suite of Washington offices is the most mysterious place in the Western Hemisphere. When the mission arrived in our capital, it engaged an entire floor near the top of the Willard hotel, which is right in the center of the city. From my seat in front of the machine on which I'm writing this column, just under the roof of the National Press building, I can see directly across the street, the barred windows of the mission's quarters. The mission had the bars put in as soon as it had leased the apartments. But, nearby as I am, I'd have about as much difficulty in getting into that suite as I'd have in getting out of Alcatraz, if I were incarcerated there. It's watched as the mint isn't.

Last fall, the mission having established itself in our midst, William S. Knudsen, as head of our war production outfit, pointed out to Chief Purvis that he'd have to have a complete idea of Britain's plans and requirements, in order to adapt American industries to supply the latter.

Purvis Goes After It

Well, Purvis himself wasn't adequately posted on the subject. His superior, at home, seemed to have assumed that he could order whatever they needed, as they needed it, and that we'd let 'em have it promptly. Knudsen had to explain to him that the contract promised to be too big to be handled without some advance preparation to gear us up to it.

Accordingly Purvis flew to London to ask for a schedule.

The army, navy, and aviation managers there didn't like a lot true. Yet in face of them, reports of stoppages in key industries pour into Washington and practically nothing is done about them. Obviously, nothing can slow down our production of the material England needs as much as "work stoppage" for any reason whatever.

To say that it was a secret is to express it mildly. Nevertheless, it was a secret that Purvis had to let President Roosevelt in on.

The president necessarily had to pass it along, in turn, to a few (darned few) of his most trusted assistants. One of them unquestionably was Bill Knudsen. And the rumor is that it was a schedule of the size of which nearly knocked Bill's eye out.

Besides Bill Knudsen, probably Sidney Hillman, Bill's labor associate, and War and Navy Secretaries Stimson and Knox are posted.

Knudsen must be the worst worried of the bunch.

How It Works

Purvis simply says to the president, "We want so-and-so." Thereupon the president says to Bill, "We MUST HAVE so-and-so," thus (Continued On Page Seven)

THE TEST

And if I be denied the strength
To run at speed the full mile's length
Or uppermost to climb?
Or if I lack the wit and skill
Always to master good and ill,
How best, then, use my time?

Oh, never doubt great need must be
For every man's capacity
To labor here for good!
'Tis given to all unto the end
To be to some the needed friend
And help, if but they would.

Always there waits the lesser care
Which all have been endowed to share.
Always 'tis asked of man
To do in many a troubled hour,
Not mighty deeds beyond his power,
But what he should and can.

Over 10,000 Married Women Teachers In State Schools

School Directors Convention Hears Proposal For Dismissing Married Teachers

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—A proposal to permit local school boards to dismiss married women teachers highlighted the opening session today of the 46th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State School Directors' Association at Harrisburg.

More than 1800 members attended the opening of the two-day meeting presided over by Dr. W. A. Roberts, Newtown, and heard delegates propose amendments calculated "to correct weaknesses in previous legislation."

Preston O. Van Ness, executive secretary, said that a survey revealed more than 10,220 married women, or 22 per cent of the total, were teaching in public schools. He added that the figure represented an increase of 22 per cent over 1939.

It was reported that Sen. Franklin Spencer Edmonds, (R) Philadelphia, was prepared to sponsor in the legislature a proposal to give school boards "local option" on the retention of teachers. Dr. Roberts asserted the measure would be non-partisan.

Recommendations of the association's legislative committee will be voted upon tomorrow.

Rees James of Ellwood City is visiting with his son, John James, of Detroit, Mich. While there the former became ill, but is now somewhat improved.

George Christoph of 821 Vogan avenue, who underwent an operation Tuesday at the Cleveland Clinic hospital, is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marsocci, of Rochester, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. DePalma and daughter, Lena, of N. Y., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Leonardo, 218 South Jefferson street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Boyd, of Pulaiki, who have been critically ill at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McClenahan, of New Wilmington, R. D. 1, remain the same.

Dr. and Mrs. Leland Hamilton, of 219 Englewood avenue, have returned from Cleveland where Dr. Hamilton attended a meeting at The Statler hotel, held by the Cleveland Dental Society.

Little Jennie Morgan, of Raymond street, who is confined with injuries received from a sled riding accident in the Jameson Memorial hospital, is getting along nicely and will return to her home this week.

Marion Haller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Haller, of Crafton, former local residents, has one of the leading roles in the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "Pirates of Penzance," presented in the Crafton high school.

George, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shenker, Forest street, has been returned to his home, from the New Castle hospital, and is getting along nicely. The former had two hands caught in the wringer rolls at home, and after much treatment, two fingers had to be amputated.

ing authorized aid to Britain to overall figure of $7,000,000,000.

3. Fish amendment prohibiting the president from transferring any part of navy without consent of congress.

4. Amendment prohibiting the president from repairing and outfitting foreign vessels in American ports.

Leaders Lost Control

Administration leaders lost control of the house for one brief period yesterday when an amendment offered by Rep. Dirksen (R) Ill., permitting congress to take away Mr. Roosevelt's power to aid Britain by a simple majority vote of both senate and house—and thus taking from him his veto power—was adopted.

Bloom said he was uncertain whether he would seek to reverse the house approval of the amendment, which, he added, is not important.

While Dirksen maintained that it is a highly important amendment, other Republicans said it would have little practical effect. Minority Leader Martin pointed out that since Democrats control both branches of congress, they could prevent a vote on a resolution to take power from the president.

Foes of the bill planned to make their greatest fight for the Eaton amendment. Although the house yesterday rejected the Mundt substitute, limiting British aid to $2,000,000,000 the Eaton substitute left to the president full power to co-ordinate manufacture of American and British defense articles.

"If my amendment is adopted, which would provide substantial aid for Britain, the bill can be passed by an overwhelming vote," said Rep. Eaton (R) N. J. "This show of unity in congress would electrify the world."

MAJOR WILLIAMS TESTIFIES AGAINST 'LEASE-LEND' BILL

cient in air power," Williams said. "In fact, American airpower is a myth. The neglect to provide that vital arm for America's national defense system is nothing short of criminal."

Asserting that he is unalterably opposed to passage of the bill, even though it may be modified by amendments, Williams added:

"This bill before you negatives all chances of developing American airpower since it will further strip us of existing aircraft and divert future production and for that reason alone I am unequivocally opposed to it from the start."

"There is only one thing that could awaken in my heart deeper and more determined opposition to this bill, and that is its deadly potential threat to American liberty, to the American way of life, and to our representative form of government."

Pure Nonsense

Williams said that "periodically the American people have been subjected to a series of horror stories concerning some sort of overnight invasion of the U. S."

"I want to go on record as saying flatly and unequivocally that this is pure nonsense—a physical and mechanical impossibility now and for a considerable stretch of years."

Williams said that even though the bill should be passed it would do little to increase defense production.

"The passage of this bill, or as I said before, any modification of this bill, will amount to a virtual suicide of the American way of life," he said.

Accepting even this suicide, I see no additional hope in this bill wherein unprecedented power never before granted to any other American president, would provide in a shorter time, the adequate American airpower so vital to the safety and preservation of this country.

"A blank mandate or check on American liberties, American blood, or American destiny, is not the solution."

"Beds For Britain" Is Goal Of Society

Due to the urgent need for hospital beds in England, the North Hill Unit of the British War Relief Society, Incorporated, is taking as its goal, at least for the time being, a hospital bed a month for Britain.

The unit is sending funds this month for two completely equipped beds at a cost of nearly forty dollars each.

Anyone interested in donating to this fund, or in knitting for the society, are asked to please contact Mrs. Harry Barkby, 217 Hillcrest avenue.

Britain Free Of Air Raids During Night, Says London

Little Enemy Activity Over
Britain Is Reported
Overnight

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 7.—German aerial raids against Britain once more came virtually to a standstill during the night, the air ministry announced today.

"There was a little enemy activity over the west coast early last night, but no bombs were reported," the communiqué said.

Earlier Air Commodore R. V. Goddard in a radio broadcast declared Britain must win the air war against Germany as a prelude to victory. He declared British planes shot down three German planes for every R. A. F. machine lost and added:

"The recent lull in enemy bombing meant the Germans were having difficulties with the low clouds and icy weather. It meant that they were having crashes."

"We are grateful for the winter. We got through it pretty well. More than 480 enemy aircraft have been destroyed in the past two months. The ratio of our successes to our losses has been three to one."

"Forty enemy planes were shot down in raids on Malta during this period, while we had only two losses. Since June the R. A. F. in the middle east has destroyed more than 350 Italian planes in the air and probably as many on the ground."

The Great Game Of Politics

represented by his friends as anxious to reduce strikes and to cooperate with Mr. Knudsen. There is no reason to disparage his good intentions, but the fact remains that he was put on the commission primarily to represent and look after the interests of labor and is under constant pressure to do exactly that—and does it.

IT also is the fact that some of the New Dealers who are strongly back of him are exceedingly hostile to and suspicious of the businessmen in the defense machine. They feel that these have to be watched, blocked and checked. Instead of being discouraged in this feeling by the Administration, the labor politicians are encouraged. Assuming, as seems justified, that this is really a labor government, some of the more aggressive labor leaders who work closely with the New Deal radicals, see in the war an opportunity to get for organized labor three things it ardently wants—first, more political power; second, a larger proportion of the profits of industry; third, an approach to equality with industrial management in management.

IN other words, labor politicians and their New Deal allies have their minds more strongly fixed upon utilizing this crisis to advance labor's power along these lines than in cooperating with industry in speeding up defense production. Neither the friendly propaganda about Mr. Hillman's eagerness to cooperate nor the talk about labor's willingness to make "sacrifices" alters the fact. The plain truth is that the labor leaders are not willing to make any sacrifices at all, either in the way of relaxing labor laws which hamper production or in abridging their right to strike on defense work.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S insistence that there is no need for modification of the labor laws, and that "our social gains" must be preserved, has stiffened organized labor's disposition to regard itself as the favored class in this crisis just as it has been from the beginning of the Roosevelt regime. And the recent decision of the Roosevelt majority on the Supreme Court, affirming the exemption of labor unions from the anti-trust laws, tends to confirm them in that view. The Administration's attitude operates not to speed up the production for which the President calls, but to slow it down, by insisting that labor must not relinquish any of its "rights" one of which is the right to strike. The Administration position is illogical and absurd. It frustrates its own declared purpose. It deplores the strikes when they occur, but it has no policy to avert them and it coddles the men responsible.

IT is absurd for the Administration to urge speed and appeal for non-partisan support while it deals in such a fashion with the labor situation. Until the President finds a way to avert strikes and relax the hampering labor legislation, calling upon industry for greater speed does not make sense—because those are the things that prevent speed.

Sister Of Local Resident Is Dead

Mrs. Amanda Hamill, of 401 McClain avenue, has received word of the death of her sister, Mrs. Ella Morris, aged 56 years, of Youngstown, who died on Thursday, following a long illness.

Mrs. Morris lived in New Castle during her childhood, moving to Youngstown after her marriage to Clyde Morris, who died in 1918.

A son, Arthur Morris of Youngstown, and a daughter, Mrs. Vera Chapman, of Kent, O., survive. She also leaves four grandchildren, three sisters, Mrs. Amanda Hamill, New Castle; Mrs. Elizabeth Kropf, of Spenok, Long Island, N. Y.; and Mrs. Jeannette Cook, East Port, Long Island; and a brother, Samuel Hogue, of Detroit, Mich.

Funeral services will be conducted from King's Chapel, in Youngstown, on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and interment will follow in a cemetery in that city.

Moderate Gain In Business Is Shown

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—Another "moderate" gain in business in the Pittsburgh district was recorded for last week today by the bureau of business research, University of Pittsburgh.

The bureau's index was 142.8 per cent of the 1923-25 average, it was reported, as compared to 140.7 per cent the previous week, and 144.7 in the week ended January 4—the highest record.

Better than seasonal gains were reported in coal production originating shipments and the volume of trade. The operating rate of the steel industry remained at about the same level as the preceding week, with the number of blast furnaces in operation showing no change, the research group reported.

getting the problem off his mind. But Bill has to produce the goods. Hillman's stunt is to keep labor pacified. That may be difficult but it shouldn't be impossible. Bill, though, is called on to produce things out of nothing, for our present productive capacity isn't up to our own and Britain's demands.

As for Secretary Stimson, what he has to say is, "Britain can't have as much as it asks for, or it'll cut into supplies that our army needs for itself." Secretary Knox is due occasionally to make the same remark as to the navy.

Yet Britain HAS TO HAVE what it asks for.

Thus it's up to Bill to produce considerably in excess of our today's productive capacity for Britain's benefit and then to produce still further in our capacity's excess to prevent a shortage in our own supplies.

naval bases and cession to Italy of vital areas of France and her colonies was disclosed to International News Service in Bern today.

Well-informed neutral sources made known for the first time the extent of Nazi-Fascist pressure being brought to bear upon Chief of State Marshal Henri Philippe Petain.

Laval Will Turn Over Fleet

At the same time they revealed that former Vice-Premier Pierre Laval has given his word that he will turn the French fleet over to Germany the moment he obtains control either of the Vichy government or a German-sponsored 'rump' regime with headquarters in Paris.

Disclosure that Germany is demanding use of the French fleet and naval bases such as Bizerte in Tunis where it now lies at anchor aroused immediate speculation regarding the attitude of General Maxime Weyland.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: According to a Reuters dispatch from Vichy, General Weyland today denied that France would permit Germany the use of Bizerte.)

Stand By Petain

In a radio broadcast a week ago, Weyland announced that his strong forces in North Africa and the fleet along with them were standing solidly by Petain.

He denied incessant rumors that colonial France would throw in its lot with Britain and the "Free French" forces headed by General Charles De Gaulle. But he intimated strongly that both he and Petain would stand firm against any German attempt to seize the fleet or carry out complete military occupation of France.

ANOTHER ITALIAN BASE IN LIBYA IS TAKEN BY BRITAIN

important triumph for the British, since the Italians had been using the town and seaport as one of their most important air and naval bases.

Defenders Flee

Prior to the fall of Benghazi, there had been reports that many of the Italian defenders were fleeing from the town, taking much of their mechanized equipment with them.

Preparing the way for the final assault by ground forces, R. A. F. planes blasted Berka and Benina, the two airports outside Benghazi, and also raided a railway station at nearby Barce.

Simultaneously, the British headquarters at Cairo revealed that the imperial troops in Eritrea are making rapid progress.

Keep Up Advance

Rapidly consolidating their new positions, the British already have begun the siege of Keren, important Italian stronghold 50 miles from the Eritrean capital of Asmara, according to military advisers.

These dispatches revealed that British artillery batteries are subjecting Italian positions defending Keren to a heavy shelling.

The new assault on Keren proper began after the British completed arduous reconnaissance work in the mountainous country surrounding the town.

Today the main body of British forces in Eritrea are taking up well fortified positions around Keren and within striking distance of the Italians.

Intense Attacks

British batteries, cunningly concealed in the hillsides, are giving the Fascist positions an intense pounding, it was reported. But the reports added that the Fascist forces are showing signs of stiffer resistance than the British have yet encountered in Eritrea.

Further south another British column is pursuing an Italian division which fled from the British-occupied town of Barentu.

Word received at Cairo headquarters indicated the British are bringing increasing pressure against this Italian division along a difficult track leading to Adigrigi.

Strength of the Italian division was reported "diminishing daily" as a result of casualties and constant capture of prisoners by the British. The Italians also are deserting in considerable numbers, according to these reports.

British officials said they doubted whether more than half the original Italian force ever would reach Adigrigi and added that the Italians are abandoning increasing quantities of guns, vehicles, tanks and other war equipment in their flight.

to board a clipper plane there today. He is to be a witness before the senate foreign relations committee on Monday.

Similarly, Mr. Roosevelt said he expected to see Col. William J. "Wild Bill" Donovan upon his return from Europe, although he had no idea when that might be. The president said that Donovan had no official status in the course of his visits to various European capitals. It is generally accepted that he went abroad as the personal emissary of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox.

Asked about Harry Hopkins, his close personal adviser who is in England on a mission for him, Mr. Roosevelt replied that Hopkins would be back soon, but added that he did not know exactly when or by what route.

NEW NEGOTIATIONS FOLLOW MARSHAL PETAIN'S REPLY

This was a visit paid to Petain yesterday by United States Ambassador William D. Leahy. It was believed that Leahy obtained information from the marshal regarding latest developments in the complex French political situation and in the "crisis" between Vichy and Berlin.

(Editor's Note: In London the Daily Express said it understood Leahy informed Petain the United States "could not regard indifferently the handing over of the French fleet to the Axis.")

Regional Scout Executive Here

Dan O. Henry, special deputy regional Boy Scout executive of Region 3, Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters in Philadelphia, has been visiting the Lawrence County Boy Scout office in the Greer building for the past two days.

Mr. Henry's visit has been in connection with a determined effort on the part of the local council to have well organized districts.

We hate to seem suspicious, but what other reason can a big shot have for opposing aid to Britain?

'Heart' Topic Of Doctor's Address

Lawrence County Medical society members last night heard a prominent Pittsburgh physician, Dr. William Leo Mullins, discuss "Heart Conditions" at their regular February meeting in The Castleton.

Dr. Mullins was introduced to the doctors by president, Dr. Howard C. Harper.

The meeting, held in the hotel lounge, was one of the best attended in months. The scientific address was the only feature of the evening.

Two Certificates Asked By Pottery

Requests Made To Government As Result Of Defense Program Expansion

By ARTHUR C. WIMER (Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—The Shenango Pottery company of New Castle has applied to the War Department for certification that it has expanded its facilities in the interest of national defense. Such certification permits manufacturers to take advantage of amortization stipulations in the existing revenue law.

The New Castle establishment has asked the War Department for two certificates. One would stipulate that the company's expansion had been necessitated by national defense. The other would specify that the government was not reimbursing the pottery for this expansion.

Seek To Register All War Veterans For Home Defense

Pennsylvania Department Of American Legion Opens
Drive In State

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—A drive to register all war veterans for possible home defense or other emergency service was launched today by the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion.

F. Clair Ross, chairman of the Legion's national defense committee, announced that the registration forms were being mailed out by a American Legion post throughout the state.

"The registration is entirely voluntary and is not confined to members of the American Legion," it was stated. "Any ex-service man may register his qualifications for possible duty should a grave national emergency arise."

Ross said the Legion hoped to complete its registration drive by February 22, the 29th anniversary of Washington's birthday. He estimated that there were more than 450,000 war veterans in the state.

"This is our answer to threats and intimidations," said Ross. "War veterans are urged to communicate with the nearest American Legion Post as soon as practicable and again 'sign-up' as they did in 1917-18, for the preservation of our democracy and the protection of our homes and children from the world-dominating ambitions of dictators."

"There is no need to appeal to the patriotism of American war veterans," continued Ross. "This time, should war unfortunately come, the more than 4,000,000 ex-service men throughout the nation will be classified and indexed into the greatest reserve of trained men the United States ever had."

INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL

GROSS INCOME, NET INCOME, AND SURTAX NET INCOME
In computing a Federal income tax, the taxpayer is confronted with the problem of ascertaining, (1) his gross income, (2) his net income, and
(3) his surtax net income. The instructions which accompany the forms clearly and explicitly set out how this is done. If, after reading them carefully, the taxpayer does not understand them, he should consult the nearest collector of internal revenue.

Gross income, generally, is all income derived in any taxable year from any source whatever, unless specifically exempt by law. In any usual business, the gross income of the person operating it consists of the gross profits on sales, plus any income from investments and incidental or outside operations or sources. The income tax return must show the exact condition of the business—gross sales, purchases, and the cost of the goods sold, and the inventories at the beginning and end of each taxable year.

In the case of professional men—a lawyer, a physician, an architect, a surgeon, a dentist, a clergyman, a writer, or any other—the gross income must include all fees, salaries, and compensation of any kind received for professional services.

Amounts received from the Commodity Credit Corporation shall, at the option of the taxpayer, be considered as income and shall be included in the gross income for the taxable year in which they were received. If the option was exercised for any taxable year which began in 1939, it shall be adhered to with respect to all subsequent taxable years unless the Commissioner of Internal Revenue approves a change to a different method.

Net income is the gross income less the deductions allowed by law. The long-continued and varying experience of the Bureau of Internal Revenue shows that numerous errors are made by taxpayers in their income tax returns due to their failure to understand clearly what deductions from gross income and what credits against net income are allowable. The taxpayer, in his own interest, is urged to read over the instructions on the forms until he understands them, before he makes out his return. Legal deductions include business and professional expenses, such as salaries, pensions, and bonuses to employees, taxes, losses, interest, bad debts, depreciation, depletion, contributions, and similar items definitely set out in the instructions.

An earned income credit of 10 per cent of the earned net income, not in excess of 10 per cent of the net income, is allowed in addition to the personal exemption and credit for dependents, if any, for the purpose of computing the normal tax.

Surtax net income is the balance left after deducting exemptions and credits from the net income. From this balance deduct the earned income credit and other specified items on which the normal tax of 4 per cent is computed.

Army Service Hits College Attendance

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Feb. 7.—Active service in the National Guard, army enlistments and positions in industry is largely responsible for a loss of 57 students at the start of the second semester at Grove City College. The actual registration today was 877, and the shrinkage of slightly more than five percent is slightly larger than is customary for the second semester.

A number of students are members of the local National Guard company, which will be mobilized for active service on Feb. 17th. Several others have enlisted in the Regular Army, and another group accepted good positions in industry, made available by the National Defense program. A part of the shrinkage comes from students who completed work for their degrees, and still others failed to make satisfactory scholastic grades.

With the opening of the semester, men students assigned to the new dormitory, Lincoln Hall, took up their residence in the new building.

George Cameron, who was sentenced to Huntingdon on December 14 for burglary, has been returned to this county and his sentence changed to six months in the Lawrence county jail.

Continuing with the discussion of the budget for 1941, today you can take a look at the institution budget for the year. This budget provides for what little relief the county does, the state having taken most of it over.

One mill has been assessed for institutional purposes and this with other revenues is expected to bring in about $71,797.36. There is in the bank at the start of the year $185,551.93. The estimated expenditures are $186,549.50.

No millage is assessed for the gasoline fund as this money comes from the state in the form of a one-half cent per gallon refund each year. In 1940 the state held all refunds to the counties but promised to give back in 1941. There should be about $150,000 returned to the county this year. The estimated expenditures are $157,210. Of this $27,500 is set up for bridge repairs and maintenance, $20,000 for road damages and a loan from the general fund in 1940 of $62,795 must be paid back.

The assessed valuation for this year is $58,194,291. For 1940 it was $60,863,364 and for 1939, $3,213,392. The occupational assessment total for 1941 is $4,302,180 the same as in 1940. In 1939 it was $4,311,007. The personal property valuation estimate for 1940 is $16,000,000. The same estimate was made in 1940 but it was actually $19,280,004. For 1939 the total was $21,115,240.

In 1940 the county collected 82½ per cent of the face of the duplicate. Five years ago only 72 per cent was collected. The tax levy this year, three mills for general purposes and one for institutional, is down with the lowest rates ever assessed here. In 1900 the rate for general purposes (no poor tax levied then) was four mills. It went as low as three mills in 1906-7-8 and in 1909 went back to four mills. From 1913 to 1917 it was four mills and from 1917 to 1921 it was six mills. In 1921 it was eight mills, due no doubt to a million dollar bond issue which was then assessed and being used. In 1926 a poor tax of two mills was assessed, the county having taken over the job of aid to indigents instead of its being handled by the city and townships. The general tax levy was 6½ mills.

The rate was 6½ and 2½ from 1928 to 1933 when the general rate dropped to 4½ and the poor rate went to 3½. In 1936 the general rate was 6½ and the poor rate was a decrease each year to the present rate.

In the general budget there is an amount of $65,200 earmarked for capital outlay. The commissioners contemplate adding a wing to the court house to care for the county treasurer, county controller and county commissioners needs for more room.

The salary board has finished its work and the result of their meetings is an increase of $480 per year in the county pay roll. This year the board decided on a blanket increase of $5 per month for each office, to be divided as the head of the department sees fit. The offices getting the increases are prothonotary, register and recorder, treasurer, county commissioners, district attorney, welfare, judges' stenographer and sheriff.

The salary board is composed of the county commissioners, the county treasurer and the head of each department, the latter sitting only when his own department is up.

Maps have been received by the county commissioners showing the proposed road improvement from the Harlansburg road across to the East Brook-Volant road. The work is to be done this summer.

When completed the road will be open from Ellwood City by way of Energy, Weigeltown, Harlansburg, East Brook and Volant to the Perry highway.

LINGERIE TO SANDBAGS

Since the war started, a London firm has gone from the manufacture of silk underwear to the making of sandbags. "The demand for lingerie fell off," said a member of the firm, "and we did not want to discharge our 100 girl machinists."

Expect Large Crowd To Attend Banquet Tonight At Christian Church

All indications are that the dining room of the Madison Avenue Christian church will be filled to capacity tonight for the Christian Endeavor society anniversary banquet. Scheduled for 6:30 o'clock, the banquet will be the closing event of the 60th anniversary week celebration at the ward church. Robert Parks, Sunday school superintendent, will be in charge of the program.

AUXILIARY MEETS

THURSDAY AT NOON
Members of the Ladies Auxiliary to Order of Railway Conductors, enjoyed a tureen dinner and held their regular meeting, at noon, Thursday, in the American Legion Home, North Jefferson street.

Plans were made for a social meeting in two weeks. Mrs. Sara Frew was in charge of the business session, and Mrs. Sarah Olmstead was in charge of the dinner committee.

Rev. Fr. Hinnebusch Confined In Hospital

Rev. Fr. Michael P. Hinnebusch, pastor of St. Margaret's church is recuperating in the New Castle hospital, and is taking a much needed rest. He is not permitted visitors.

MRS. W. G. WILKINS HOSTESS TO GROUP

Women's Missionary society of the Madison Avenue Christian church, held a meeting in the Oakwood avenue home of Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Milton E. Shearer was in charge of the program. The theme for the event was, "China On The March", and the following members presented papers on the subject: Mrs. C. H. Clark, Mrs. J. B. Bum-baugh, Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Frank Douds.

During business period, plans were made for a brotherhood dinner on February 19, in the church.

Mrs. J. T. Clark aided in serving a buffet style luncheon and Mrs. C. H. Clark poured tea. Friday, March 7, the group will meet with Mrs. Frank Rhinehart, West Madison avenue.

ARRANGE DISPLAY FOR SCOUT WEEK

Boy Scouts of the Beaver patrol of Mahoningtown troop 4 have arranged an attractive window display in the Mahoningtown branch library, East Madison avenue. The display has been placed to mark Boy Scout Week locally.

Centering the display are two flags, the American and Boy Scout flags. On either side of the flags may be seen examples of leather-craft work, copies of merit badge pamphlets available at the library, and handicraft items.

C. AND L. CLUB
MEETS IN WARD
Members of the C. and L. club held a meeting at the home of Catherine Latos, 210 West Cherry street, Wednesday evening.

Card games were played during the hours and prizes were won by Mrs. Howard Calvert and Mrs. John Bodnar.

Luncheon was served by L. hostess, aided by her sister, Miss Bertha Latos. Mrs. John Bodnar was a special guest.

On February 12 the club will meet with Miss Margaret Childs of Croton avenue.

Little Change In Injured
Soldier's Condition

Mrs. Clifford Young of R. F. D. No. 6, who was called to the bedside of her son, Robert Raymond Young, who was inducted into service in the United States forces on January 23 and who was seriously injured in an accident at Nantuxmond Ordnance Depot, near Norfolk, Va., Sunday, has returned home, but her husband is remaining at the side of the injured youth for a few days.

Practically no change had occurred in the youth's condition, Mrs. Young stated, and X-ray pictures are to be taken as soon as it is possible to determine the full extent of his injuries. He suffered a fractured skull in addition to a crushed chest. He is being treated at the U. S. Naval hospital at Portsmouth, Va.

According to information Mrs. Young received at camp, the accident occurred when the fire truck, responding to an alarm from outside the camp, reached the entrance to the camp. Just as the truck was about to swing out onto the highway, another car turned in, and in order to avoid a collision, the driver of the truck swerved his heavy machine, which crashed into the camp guardhouse and overturned. The three most seriously injured were pinned underneath the machine.

Recent Farm Show Broke All Records

Secretary Of Agriculture Light
Comments On Farm Products Exhibit

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—The 1941 Pennsylvania farm products show surpassed all previous records, Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light announced today.

"Preliminary reports being made are most gratifying," said Light. "The exhibits were proclaimed to have been the best shown in the exposition's 25-year history."

"This indicates a trend of importance in agriculture, proving that the Pennsylvania farmer is not only cognizant of the value of good and well-bred stock but that he spares no effort to have his farm stocked with the best."

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Some call it "The American Disease"—doctors say "anxiety neurosis."

The tempo and complexity of modern American life is highly keyed.

Nervous disease is familiar to the doctor in general practice.

Such cases lend themselves to treatment.

When properly handled they show satisfactory response.

These patients show a picture of anxious apprehension.

They are tense and uneasy, have forebodings and cannot sleep well.

When their condition sends them to the doctor they are desperate.

There is choking in the throat and a tightening in the chest.

People say "It's your imagination" or "Use your will power."

The sufferer needs kindly reassurances and explanations.

Anxiety neurosis calls for adequate, understanding, intelligent treatment.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

DAIRY AND CROPS PROGRAM

The second Annual County-wide Dairy and Crops program for Lawrence County will be held Tuesday, February 11, in room 206 Post Office building, New Castle.

Everyone is invited to attend this meeting which will begin promptly at 10 o'clock and be completed around 3 o'clock.

The program includes:

"Dairy Cattle Breeding"—R. R. Welsh, dairy extension specialist, State College.

"Cooperative Purchasing of Bulls"—Fred L. Taylor, Pulaski township.

"Grass Land Farming"—Fred Grau, Agronomy extension specialist, State College.

"Questions."

Noon recess.

"Care and Management of the Dairy Bull"—R. R. Welsh.

"Hybrid Corn Varieties for Lawrence County"—G. A. Bradley, Pulaski township.

"Lawrence County Pasture Yields"—S. J. Hunt, Scott township.

"Better Pasture Forage"—Fred Grau.

"Questions."

1,732 DAIRY HERDS MAKE 1940 HONOR ROLL

There were 104 dairy herd improvement associations in operation in the state in 1940. Each of the 107 associations finished a complete year's work during the calendar year of 1940.

Of the 107 associations, 100 had an average production per cow of 300 pounds or more of butterfat. The average production for the average association cow in 1940 was 8,562 pounds of milk and 345.4 pounds of butterfat.

In 83 of the 107 associations, 678 cows had a lifetime production of 3,000 pounds or more of butterfat. Thirty-nine of these 678 cows had a production of over 5,000 pounds of butterfat; 178 cows had between 4,000 to 5,000 pounds of butterfat; and 461 cows had a lifetime production of between 3,000 to 4,000 pounds of butterfat.

Of the 2,444 herds on test in 1940, 1,732 herds had an average production of 300 pounds or more of butterfat per cow and are on the 1940 herd honor roll of the National Dairy Association and the Pennsylvania Dairyman's Association.

These herds are divided into classes as follows: 372 herds with an average production of 400 pounds or more of butterfat per cow; 617 herds with an average production of between 350 to 400 pounds of butterfat; and 743 herds with an average production per cow of between 300 to 350 pounds of butterfat.

HEIGHT OF HOPPER IS IMPORTANT TO POULTRY

Many Lawrence county poultrymen, especially those who have the heavier breeds, prefer low feeders. The equipment rests on the litter and the fowls may stand on the litter to eat.

Enough height to prevent litter from being scattered into the feeder may be provided by short legs or blocks under the hopper. In some cases, a low approach to the feeder for the fowl to stand on may be required. With these two types of equipment, danger of fowls standing on the floor picking at others feeding from perches is reduced. If hoppers can be detached from the legs set 18 inches or so from the floor, one can try setting a few of these on the floor for a while each day. The act of moving these up and down seems to cause birds to show more interest in the mash.

SOW SEEDS NOW FOR LATE SUMMER BLOOMS

Gloxinia may be grown successfully from seeds sown this month in a light, sandy compost soil. As the seeds are very small, have the soil mixture watered and the surface of the soil smooth before planting.

It is not necessary to cover the seeds, but if they should be covered a small sprinkling of sand is advisable.

Sow the seeds in flat pans, and keep the temperature of the room at 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Apply water carefully. If the soil has been sterilized, losses from damping off disease will be reduced. Never permit the direct rays of the sun to strike the plants.

When the seedlings have two pairs of leaves, they may be pricked off into pans of sandy soil and transferred to flats, spaced 2 to 3 inches apart. Make the next shifting of the transplanted seedlings to 4 to 6 inch pots. These flowers will bloom the latter part of the summer.

A satisfactory soil mixture is composed of one part well-rotten manure, one part peat moss, one part sand, and three parts silt loam.

If you desire large tubers, plant the seedlings 8 to 10 inches apart in the coldframes. Always keep shaded sashes over the plants and provide good ventilation daily. Spraying is necessary to control insects.

At the end of the flowering season, allow glloxinia to dry off slowly. Store the tubers in either dry sand or dry peat, and never allow the storage temperature to go below 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Two year old tubers generally produce the best plants.

KEEP LAYING HENS SUPPLIED WITH MINERALS

This is the time of year when troubles from thin-shelled eggs are most common.

The calcium requirements for heavy laying hens are great and it may be impossible for them to secure enough of this mineral. It is wise to replenish the supply of oyster shell or similar material and stir it frequently so that coarser particles always will be available.

Litter and fine materials collecting on top of the hoppers may keep the heavy laying hens from eating enough calcium to produce eggs with good shells. The consumption of such materials may be increased by scattering small amounts on top of the mash.

Additional vitamin D may help to correct the thin-shelled egg problem.

VIVID COLORS HIGHLIGHTS FOR SPRING

Spring 1941 will be a distinctly colorful season, according to fashion experts. If the budget allows for new additions to your wardrobe, there is a wide range of materials as well as colors from which to choose.

Silk prints with vivid ground colors will be a bright note in spring costumes, says Miss Markle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence County. Red, green, and dull gold in small prints are featured in street, afternoon, and sports dresses.

In rayon prints, light colors are newcomers. These light effects are an important phase of the fashion trend to colorful patterns.

Another idea worth observing is the popularity of "twosomes." Twosomes, or companion fabrics, show small patterns printed in identical colors on two ground colors which are always a light and a dark tone of the same color.

In spring worsteds and woens, there is more emphasis on color. In novelty plaids, there is a tendency to play up bolder or brighter colors on a pastel ground.

If you can have but one new item for your wardrobe, key it to the spring colors and you can go places with a feeling of being well-dressed.

MEND HOLE TO SAVE APPEARANCE OF RUG

"A stitch in time" keeps a hole in a rug from getting beyond the mending stage, reminds Miss Julia Markle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence County.

To repair the hole, take a strong piece of canvas or other heavy material and sew it on the wrong side of the rug. Then turn the rug over and whip down to the canvas along the edges of the hole.

Place a large wire nail or knitting needle over the patch, parallel with the rows of pile, and with a darning needle and yard work loops of pile over the nail or needle, copying the pattern in colors of the rug.

After you have filled in the pattern completely, turn the rug on the wrong side and fasten the yarn on the wrong side with coarse thread.

If the rug has cut pile, shear the loops of yarn even with the other pile. If the colors have been well matched, the darning will scarcely show and the appearance of the rug is saved.

INDIANA, Pa., Feb. 7.—A long distant telephone call from Jim Stewart, lanky Hollywood film star, to his parents in Indiana, today disclosed that it was because he was underweight that he had been placed in Class 1-B in the draft.

Called early in the draft, Jim reported to the proper authorities and went through the usual procedure, including the physical examination. The examination showed he was underweight and he was put in Class 1-B.

"And that's all there was to it," he told his father, an Indiana hardware merchant. "Never at any time did I or my company request my deferment."

SIXTEEN BURGLARIES

There were 16 burglaries here during January according to police. There was also one armed robbery, 14 thefts of articles less than $50 and four automobiles stolen.

James K. Polk is the only man to serve as speaker of the house and later as president of the United States.

Neshannock Post Will Entertain District Meeting

Expect 500 Delegates Will Be Here For Gathering On March 2

Neshannock Post No. 315, V. F. W., will be hosts to the posts of the Fourth District, comprising posts of 28 counties in Western Pennsylvania, in the post rooms here on Sunday afternoon, March 2.

Arrangements for the event were gotten under way at the meeting of Neshannock Post in their headquarters at 126 1/2 East Washington street, last evening. The Ladies Auxiliary of Post 522 will entertain the lady delegates on this occasion.

Prior to last night's meeting, the post went to the home of Wilson G. Boyd, a charter member of the post, who died suddenly Wednesday morning. Pull V. F. W. ritualistic military honors will be accorded by the post at the cemetery at Parkers Landing, Sunday afternoon. Those taking part will meet at the Boyd home Sunday at 12 o'clock. Commander Earl Cummins states.

The membership committee reported that the post is still continuing to make progress and many new members have been added to the post rolls. It was also reported that five members of the post, who are undergoing treatment in the Aspinwall hospital are now recovering. They are: Brainer Owens, Charles Boggs, Morrison Kennedy, Edward Welkenbach and Jesse McKeever. The post service officer has also taken care of the hospitalization of several other local war veterans, who are not members of the post.

News Briefs From City Hall

Parking meter thieves were active last night, meters 250 and 252, in West Washington street having been unlocked and looted. Police also reported a meter was damaged by an auto.

New Castle police were asked by Youngstown police to search for a Buick sedan, Ohio license J520P reportedly stolen from that city last night.

Street department employees were on the ashing job early this morning. Hills were ashed in time to prevent many autos skidding down the steep hills, according to street department attaches.

TROOP 3
Girl scouts of Troop 3 met at the First Christian church at 7 o'clock, Wednesday evening. The troop sang a few songs, and planned a party. A square dance was held, followed by patrol corners and a relay race. Membership cards were given to girls of the troop. Betty Snyder sang a solo, and the meeting closed with the friendship circle and taps. Scribe, Gerry Cagle.

BESSEMER TROOP MEETS
At the Bessemer grade school, the Girl Scouts of troop No. 1 of Bessemer met for their regular meeting February 5.

During Court of Honor, regular business was discussed. Later, patrol corners were held, when the girls decided to have a sleigh ride, when the first suitable snowfall occurs.

The matter of holding a bake sale was discussed. Girl Scout tea will be given in March, when the girls will give a prize.

The first class girls had interest groups at the close of the meeting. Scribe, Dolores Martin.

Ready For 3,120 Mile Dash From Boloma, West Africa, To Trinidad

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—An aerial trail-blazing adventure today awaited Wendell L. Willkie as he sped home aboard the Dixie Clipper to testify before congress on the lease-lend bill from his first hand observations in England.

The Clipper was scheduled to leave Boloma, in West Africa at noon today on a 3,120 mile dash across the South Atlantic to Trinidad—the longest non-stop commercial flight in aviation history. Willkie reached Boloma late yesterday aboard the Clipper which is making a test flight of a southern trans-Atlantic aerial route. If this route is found feasible, it will be regularly utilized in the future.

Ahepa, Police, Vote Cash To Greek Fund

Organization gifts to the local Greek War Relief Fund today included a $300 contribution from New Castle chapter of the Order of Ahepa and a $100 contribution from New Castle lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police, Speer Marousis, general chairman of the campaign, announced.

Fund donations are reaching headquarters in Fountain Inn hotel daily. Marousis said. The local drive is part of a nation-wide effort to raise funds for stricken civilians of Greece.

TACTFUL
Mrs. Peck—We have been married 20 years, Henry.
Henry (with a sigh)—Yes, for 20 years we have fought.
Mrs. Peck (scowling)—What?
Henry (quickly)—Life's battles together, dear.

SNAPPY COME-BACK
Defendant—The things the prosecutor doesn't know about driving a car, Your Honor, would fill a book.
The Bench—And it seems to me, young man, the things you don't know about it would fill a hospital.

Young People Meet
Young People's Council of Pulaski district churches met recently in the Pulaski Presbyterian church. Bernice Smith of the host church led devotions. Rev. Kenneth Shepperd, pastor of Mahoning U. P. church, was speaker, giving an interesting discussion on his work in Egypt where he was a teacher for several years. Don Whiting conducted a short business session. A social time followed with lunch being served by the young ladies of the host church. On March 3, the group will meet in Pulaski Methodist church.

Gospel Tabernacle
Regular weekly prayer services of the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, will be resumed tonight at 7:30 with a gathering in the home of Bert Hinkson, rear 211 Pearson street. The young people of the church will hold a prayer service in the church basement with Harry Karns in charge. Saturday evening, the Fishers of Men prayer service will be held in the church at 7:30.

Nazarene Church
Rev. Rickey, an evangelist, is preaching each evening at 7:30 o'clock at revival services in the church of the Nazarene. Music is provided by the Walker sisters trio. There will be a divine healing service Saturday evening.

Twelve Killed In Canadian Plane Crash

(International News Service)
ARMSTRONG, Ont., Feb. 7.—An inquest was begun today by Canadian authorities in the hope of determining the cause of the Dominion's worst airplane crash, in which 12 persons aboard a trans-Canadian airlines transport were killed yesterday.

The huge ship, a Lockheed 14, fell in wild, almost inaccessible country a mile and a half south of the Armstrong airport, a fully lighted and equipped flag stop 360 miles east of Winnipeg in northwestern Ontario, and on the main line of the Canadian National railway.

Nine Passengers
Victims included nine passengers and the crew of three. Two of those killed were women. Two of those men, Prof. Robert McQueen of the University of Manitoba and F. J. Freer, insurance company official, were engaged in war work for the Canadian government.

The ship was en route from Toronto to Winnipeg and crashed during a snowstorm. Despite the storm, however, visibility and ceiling were good. The plane did not burn and airline and government officials hoped an explanation might be found by an examination of the wreckage.

Bodies of the victims were taken through deep snow to the nearby hamlet of Wagaming, where the inquest was held.

In addition to McQueen and Freer, the other victims, all Canadians, were: Capt. W. E. Twiss, the pilot; First Officer C. E. Lloyd; Stewardess Mary G. Mayne; Lt. Com. H. H. Harlowe of Ottawa; E. G. Manning of Victoria, chief forester of British Columbia; P. W. Gaston, Winnipeg; Mrs. R. D. Carter, Vancouver; E. E. Davidson, Vancouver; E. Malone, Toronto, and H. Moss, Toronto.

Buy-A-Bond Drive Is Being Planned

Government Expects To Raise
$4,500,000,000 In Period
Of 17 Months

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The government's forthcoming "Buy-A-Bond" drive is expected to raise approximately $4,500,000,000 over the next 17 months, federal fiscal experts estimated today.

The drive, to be patterned after World War money-raising campaign of 1917-18, will feature defense savings stamps and bonds. A special series of the stamps in denominations of ten, twenty-five, and fifty cents, and one dollar will be sold through existing post office facilities, according to tentative plans. These will be exchangeable for defense savings bonds, similar to "baby" bonds.

This method of "retailing" government securities is expected to help relieve the strain on the financial world during the next year and a half, when about $13,000,000,000 must be raised to meet the cost of national defense. Treasury experts contend it will also help avoid an inflationary rise in prices by "recapturing" money which otherwise would be spent for so-called consumer goods.

VOLANT ALUMNI TO ATTEND FUNERAL

Members of the Volant College Alumni Association are planning to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Linna King Smith, a member of the association, which will take place from her home on New Castle street, Sharon, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Smith taught in the county schools here for a number of years, and was well known locally.

The shoe peg was invented by Joseph Walker, of Hopkinton, Mass., in 1818. Nothing but sewed work had been used until then.

Home League Has Banquet Thursday At Salvation Army

Captain Carl Andreassen Inaugurates Mens Fellowship Group

Marking a year of organization, a most successful banquet was held by members of the Home League, of the Salvation Army Corps, Thursday evening. Husbands of the members were special guests.

Mrs. Carl Andreassen had the banquet tables arranged in horseshoe formation and attractively decorated with patriotic colors and long tapers.

Captain Carl Andreassen inaugurated a men's fellowship group during the evening, and the first meeting has been scheduled for Monday, February 17, at the Corps Home, North Jefferson street.

Mrs. Andreassen gave a toast to the women and Captain Andreassen responded with a toast to the women.

Sunday evening, the Home League will have complete charge of the worship service, and the ladies of the Army corps will read papers and take part in the program.

ELLWOOD CITY NEWS

Thursday Night Social Affairs

Many Delightful Club Activities Held At Homes In Community

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 7.—Among the many delightful club and social activities of Thursday afternoon and evening were:

Progressive Club
Progressive club members were agreeably entertained at a tureen dinner by Mrs. Edward Howells Orchard avenue, with the hostess' daughter, Norma and Mrs. Floyd Miesel, aiding in serving.

Bridge was the pleasant diversion with the nice top honors going to Mrs. Miesel and Mrs. Andrew Zikeli. Mr. Mrs. Andrew Zikeli, Jr., was a special guest.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the Zikeli home, in Lane avenue.

Electa Club
The Rustic Park home of Mrs. John Humphrey was the meeting place last evening for Electa club members.

Five hundred was played at two tables for several hours, with the pretty awards going to Mrs. Everson Skewis and Mrs. O. W. Miesel, who also won the travel prize. At a late hour, the hostess, aided by Mrs. George Miller, served a delicious chicken supper.

On Friday, February 21, Mrs. Louise Koach, Zelenople, will entertain.

T. T. T. Club
At the home of Mrs. James Follette, of Frisco, members of the T. T. T. club were pleasantly received last evening.

For diversion, cards were enjoyed with the pretty awards going to Mrs. Andrew Hines, Mrs. Elwin Richards and Mrs. William Clark Mrs. Albert Blazin aided in serving a refreshing lunch.

Plans were made to meet again in two weeks for a Valentine party and chicken supper with the place to be decided.

T. O. B. Club
Mrs. J. N. Lattiano welcomed members of the T. O. B. club to her home, in Orr street, last evening, with Mrs. George Posenought sharing as a special guest.

Duplicate auction held the attention of the guests with the first place awards going to Mrs. Leonard Maxwell and Mrs. James Casey.

After the hostess served seasonable refreshments, members departed to meet again next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Frank Morrow, Wayne avenue.

Hi Lo Club
Misses Martha and Connie Hayden were special guests of the Hi Lo club last evening when the members were assembled at the home of Mrs. Paul Shaffer, Smiley street.

Nice awards for high scores went to Mrs. Hildredth Welsh and Mrs. Loyal Romack. The hostess served an appetizing lunch aided by Mrs. Welsh.

The home of Mrs. Clair McKim, Wampum avenue, will be the next meeting place on Thursday, February 20.

Priscilla Kensington
Mrs. Sharp Jackson graciously entertained members of the Priscilla Kensington club at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Thursday at the Harris residence, in Wayne avenue. Pretty Valentine appointments were used.

The afternoon was devoted to Red Cross sewing. In two weeks, Mrs. Clark Parshall, Lawrence avenue, will entertain.

Rock Point Club
Quilting was the pleasant diversion for Rock Point club members who gathered at the Gabler home, Wampum road.

Late in the afternoon, the hostess served a dainty lunch. Next Thursday, Mrs. Joseph Matheny, Wampum road, will entertain.

Double Deck Club
Mrs. Carmen Venezia was a special guest of the Double Deck club whose members were welcomed at the home of Mrs. Dennis Toth, Franklin avenue.

The diversion was card playing with the attractive first place awards going to Miss Bernadine Berrigan, Mrs. Kenneth Blank and Mrs. William Nicholas. Mrs. Abe Nicholas aided in serving a tasty repast.

On Thursday, February 20, the group will have a tureen dinner at the home of Mrs. Harold Green, Knox, with Miss Berrigan as hostess.

Hungarian Club
There was a perfect attendance of members at the regular meeting of the Hungarian Women's club held last night in the First street hall.

The following officers were elected for the new year: President, Mrs. Stephen Mondell; vice president, Mrs. Stephen Kaldy; secretary, Mrs. Julius Vaga; treasurer, John Chontos.

Plans were made to have a card party in February with arrangements to be made by Mrs. John Chontos.

Cards and bingo were diversions with the attractive prizes going to Mrs. Rudy Lucas, Mrs. Albert Seising and Mrs. Stephen Kaldy.

Refreshments were served at one table beautifully decorated for Valentine day by a committee headed by Mrs. Lewis Lucas.

Mrs. Rudy Lucas will be chairman for the next meeting on Thursday, March 6.

MISSION MEMBERS MEET AT CHURCH
ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 7.—For the February meeting, thirteen members of the Women's Missionary society gathered last night at the United Presbyterian church.

The devotions and topic were presented by Mrs. F. C. McKim. Talks on migration problems were given by Mrs. Loren Springer, Mrs. Frank Potter and Mrs. J. P. Moyer.

Plans were made to have the next meeting on Thursday, March 6, at the church, featuring a tureen dinner and election of officers.

HOSPITAL NOTES
ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 7.—Discharged: Mrs. Mike Burek and infant son, Route 2.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Laurain, Route 2, a daughter, today.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kirley, 501 Haig street, a son, on Thursday.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS
Mrs. Moss Lauderbaugh of Marion Farms visited Thursday with relatives at Coraopolis.

The condition of Mrs. Jacob Sonksi, Wampum road, Wayne township, who suffered a stroke on Monday, is very critical.

Edward Wellman, Ewing Park, is still undergoing observation at the Aspinwall Veterans hospital, where he has been confined for several weeks.

The many friends of Mrs. Joseph Bloomer, Park avenue, will be glad to know that her condition is satisfactory today following a major operation performed Thursday at the local hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Baird and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barnhart of this city attended a banquet held last night at Butler by the American Legion in honor of the department commander Charles Cook.

Mrs. Maude Harper and Mrs. R. C. Mougnot, this city, visited Thursday with their sister, Mrs. Nellie Davis, New Brighton, who is improving at the Beaver Valley General hospital following a serious illness.

U. S. GIRL DRIVES AN AMBULANCE IN WAR-TORN CHINA
CHUNKING, China.—Braving dangers of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, a pretty 24-year-old American girl, Betty Graham, of Seattle, Washington, is driving an International Red Cross car in south-west China.

On her latest journey she is taking her car to Kweiyang, capital of Kweichow Province, with medical supplies.

She left Shanghai last November and travelled alone through war areas to Kunming in the southwest-ern province of Yunnan.

In 1936 Miss Graham was arrested by Japanese in Manchuria as a spy and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment. The sentence was later rescinded although, as she recalled in an interview here: "I enthusiastically offered to go to jail."

WOMEN'S ECCLESIAN CLUB WILL ATTEND ANNUAL ANNIVERSARY
Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, members of the Women's Ecclesian club gathered in their club rooms, East Washington street, at which time they made plans to participate in the anniversary event to be held by the Ecclesian club, June Travers had charge.

The anniversary will be held on Tuesday, February 11, in the Ecclesian club rooms. Reports were heard from Mrs. Albert Laurell and Mrs. Clarence Brown, and other committees.

On February 20, the next meeting will be held in the form of a social period.

Expect Housing Projects To Get Under Way Soon

Government Housing Project For Ellwood City May Be Started Shortly

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—Housing projects for defense workers in Ellwood City and Beaver are expected to get under way shortly as a result of presidential action this week.

The president approved the recommendation of Defense Housing Coordinator, C. F. Palmer, that the federal government construct homes for 100 workers in Ellwood and for 500 workers in Beaver. These units will be financed, owned and rented by the government. They cannot average more than $3500 each in overall costs.

The public buildings administration will undertake the Ellwood development, and the United States housing authority will supervise the Beaver project.

Developments In Mediterranean Are Hinted By Italy

(International News Service)

ROME, Feb. 7.—Informed Italian quarters said today they expect important French Mediterranean developments in the near future.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: While the dispatch did not specify exactly what developments Italy anticipates, reports have been circulating recently that Germany is anxious to obtain naval bases along the French Mediterranean coast and also perhaps the use of French warships.

Still other reports have claimed that Germany is pressing for passage of German troops across French Tunisia for a move against the British in Libya.)

Residential Building Prospects And Outlook Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1941—Publishers Financial Bureau Inc.

BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 7.—It is an inherent characteristic of man to want to build. In my time I have built a large number of buildings for educational, business and other purposes. In fact, as I write, I have before me blueprints of a new office building. The art of building satisfies a creative impulse and a pride of possession. As a primitive urge, building has descended through ages. As an industry, it is the oldest known next to agriculture. The man of today reads the real estate and builders' ads or roughly sketches his own ideas for a home. He is actuated by the same impulse as was his primitive ancestor in piling up flat stones and weaving branches to make crude walls and a roof.

Advantages Of Building
Everyone is agreed as to the good prospects of industrial building. More factory plans are being drawn today than at any time during the past ten years. Industrial building will exceed anything that has occurred for at least a decade. Therefore, if you contemplate building a house, start it at once. Certainly, it will be many years before you can build as cheaply as you can today. Moreover, if inflation comes, there is nothing better in which to have your money than a little house without a mortgage. Furthermore, a back-yard garden in which you can raise some vegetables, in an emergency, may prove a most valuable insurance. Carefully pick out your land and select a location which will improve with the years. If financing is necessary, and your local bank cannot accommodate you, get a 20-year government mortgage. Women are apt to buy a house as they do a car—by its color and its style. This is a mistake. The location, the amount of land, and its accessibility are far more important than the house itself. A small house on a good-sized piece of land is better than a big house on a small piece of land. I am bullish on good real estate during 1941. This does not mean old houses anywhere, or city property in general, but it does mean suburban property and productive land. I sincerely hope that workmen during World War II will spend their money on little houses before buying big cars, and on warm blankets instead of on silk shirts!

Cost of a Home
As in previous periods of great industrial expansion, more employment and larger pay rolls accompany a boom in residential building. The greater part of this boom should revolve around the small home. In recent years, there has been a tendency even upon the part of the wealthy to occupy a small salable property than to be stuck with a large white elephant. Homes today are adequately designed and arranged so that their efficiency from a utility and space point of view is far beyond anything heretofore known. With an increased demand for houses, it is natural to expect some rise in costs. Building materials will be consumed heavily this year. This is especially true of many products, such as wood-fibre, metal lath, plaster, insulating materials, asphalt roofing, etc. The broad trend in their prices should be irregularly upward. On the whole, any advance should be moderate and orderly in view of administration measures which are adopted to head off a rapid price rise. This, the president seems determined to avoid. Upping of manufacturing costs, through rising wages and taxes, is primarily responsible. But costs will certainly be subject to government action to prevent a rise which would endanger home building.

Getting Real Security
In many sections, particularly in defense areas and adjacent to shipyards and air depots, there is a shortage of housing. For rent, resale, or ultimate owner occupancy, one or more small houses in such sections might temporarily be profitable. I am, however, particularly interested in the problem of the average reader who for some time has considered building a home for his family. To him I say, "Go right from raising a family of good church-loving children, the average man does his best day's work when he acquires a home. Better see your bank or local F. H. A. office today while interest rates are still low! But insist on a 20-year low-rate mortgage with a good down payment if you have not the ready cash.

TRAFFIC DEATHS IN PHILADELPHIA FALL

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—During 1940, 287 persons were killed in motor vehicle and bicycle accidents on Philadelphia streets.

The figure is 34 less than the number killed in similar accidents during 1939, and according to Philadelphia Traffic Engineer Robert A. Mitchell, showed that 1940 was the safest year for pedestrians and motorists in this metropolis since 1936, when 252 deaths were recorded.

State Nurses Fill Out Questionnaires

National Survey Is Being Made In Connection With National Defense Program

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—Nurses of Pennsylvania are responding wholeheartedly to the national nursing inventory now under way in connection with the national defense program. Mrs. Katharine Miller, special agent for the United States Public Health Service, revealed. The response to the questionnaires which are being mailed to the more than 50,000 registered nurses in the state of Pennsylvania is most gratifying, she said.

It is anticipated that within the next two weeks each registered nurse in Pennsylvania will have received her questionnaire, which nurses were urged to fill out and return by March 1. The survey does not imply compulsory military service, it was said.

Vitamins A, B, C, D and E all are found in milk.

Friend—So you fined Miss Sweetly $5 for speeding. Is she appealing?

Magistrate—Oh, very. But we could not let that affect our decision, you know!

"They are constantly catching more grafters," said the hopeful citizen.

"Not regular grafters," answered Senator Sorghum, "those who get caught are only amateurs."

Some Reaction In Day's Market

Volume Of Trading Is Slight
—Little Change In Prices
In Transactions

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service
Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The stock market today suffered a technical reaction after the advancing trend of the last two days. Volume was slight, however.

Practically all sections were down, with losses in some groups exceeding a point. Steel stocks were the biggest losers. Bethlehem lost 1 point, U. S. Steel ¼; Youngstown ¼; Crucible ¼ and Republic ¼. Allied Chemical led the downturn in chemicals with a drop of 1½ points. Dow Chemical, however, rose a point.

In metals, American Smelting lost a point while Anaconda and Kennecott declined good-sized fractions. General Motors lost ¾ point despite its favorable report and Chrysler dipped ¾. Likewise, Sears and Montgomery Ward, both of which reported record sales again yesterday, lost fractions.

Utilities were steady to lower, with only ½ point losses for Commonwealth Edison and U. G. I. Rails were down and aviation shares lost ground. American Airlines, which had been up 1 in early dealings, lost ¾ of this later.

WATCH OUT!—Some stickwork before the net during game in New York. Goalie Gardiner of the Canadians has just made a save.

High Quintet At Aliquippa

New Castle Hopes To Stop Winning Streak Of Aliquippa Team In Section Three

RESERVE TEAMS IN PRELIMINARY

New Castle High school basketball team will go to Aliquippa tonight for a Section Three battle with the undefeated Aliquippa High team at the big Aliquippa High gym. The reserve teams will play the preliminary at 7 o'clock.

The New Castle team will leave by bus at 5:30 o'clock for the valley. The Steelers have won five straight league games, including the 27 to 23 defeat handed the locals here in the opening game of the league season.

No Lineup Changes
Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh does not contemplate any changes in the starting lineup for tonight. He will use the same team that began the Alumni game, with Ross and Lee at the forwards, Cooper at center and Christopher and Thomas at the guards. This combination clicked nicely last Tuesday against the Alumni.

SIX GAMES IN PEARSON LOOP

Six fast games were played during the past two nights in the Pearson street basketball league.

The results:
Ohio State 20, Northwestern 16; Michigan 25, Purdue 20; Wisconsin 28, Minnesota 24; Purdue 23, Michigan State 15; Purdue 28, Minnesota 19; Michigan 40, Northwestern 33.

Pitzer set a new mark in the junior loop by scoring 26 points.

CHICAGO—John Bergand (Jockey) Conlan, the National League's rookie umpire, spends his winters as director of sports in Chicago playgrounds.

Soose Favored To Beat Vigh

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Billy Soose, the former Penn State college boxer, today was a 2 to 1 choice to defeat Ernie Vigh, hard-hitting Newburgh, N. Y., middleweight, in their 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

'Floorless' Team Leads Section 20

Wampum On Way To Title Despite Handicap; Meets Shenango Tonight

After close to three seasons, Section 20 teams have finally succeeded in removing New Wilmington High from first place.

The sudden drop can be attributed to the loss of Paul Minner, who suffered a broken wrist several weeks ago. With the towering cager wizard in the lineup, the "Greyhounds" had cooped 10 straight triumphs, including five league wins. The injury bugaboo struck. With it went a clean slate and now the coveted top berth.

Wampum, new owner of the perch is a worthy successor. The Indians have one of the best balanced clubs in the history of basketball at Wampum. The Indians' rise in the cager world is incredible.

Last year, the Old Opera House, the Indians' home court, was condemned. Consequently, Wampum was left in the cold—without a place to play or practice. The hoopsters managed to get in a few licks around the school grounds, when the weatherman hung out the "go" sign.

Coach L. B. Hennon manages to lead his "floorless" boys in the family car, literally speaking, and hustles them off to Ellwood City for an occasional session on Shelby floor. Despite the handicaps, Wampum seems on its way to a Section 20 championship. A tribute to Hennon and his scrappy squad.

The new league leaders meet stiff competition tonight, facing Shenango Township High on the East New Castle court. As things stand, Shenango is definitely in the race, provided it whips the Wampum clan. Shenango is unusually tough at home. A capacity crowd is expected to witness the clash.

Their spirits undaunted despite the fact that they have dropped first place, New Wilmington's cagers switch hoops with East Brook, on East Brook floor tonight. With the return of "Kenny" Cathcart, things look a bit more rosy at New Wilmington. The long cager may ignite that spark that has been missing from the college town quintet lately.

On Union floor, Mt. Jackson hopes to strengthen its third place post in the game with Union High. A victory for the Mounties may move them into a tie for first place, provided Wampum loses.

BLINKERS NOW BOWLING FADE

There's something new in bowling circles—blinkers!
The practice of wearing the cheaters is becoming more common. Pin demolishers, who concentrate on a spot 12 to 15 feet down the alley, prefer blinkers because they are bothered by bowlers on adjacent alleys or by balls returning to racks.

HAL SCHUMACHER IN GIANT FOLD

Hal Schumacher, winner of 13 victories against an exact number of losses in 1940, has autographed a New York Giant contract.

The veteran peger, a member of the Giants for many years, had a 3.25 earned run average during the past semester.

GENEVAN BOOKED HEAVY

The newly organized Genevan basketball team has booked the Junior Odd Fellow team for a game at the Arena floor on February 8. The Genevans have also booked a game with the K. Pulaski team for February 18, and the Old Furnace for February 19. The Genevans have an enviable record of 11 wins and no defeats, and strive to keep their record intact.

AT THE ARENA

No public skating tonight.
Saturday—Roller Skating—matinee 2 to 5.
Evening—8 to 11:30.

Uncrowned King Meets A Foe

BILLY SOOSE, LEFT, AND ERNIE VIGH

Considered the "uncrowned" king of the middleweights because he has defeated both the N. B. A. champ and the New York state champ in non-title bouts, Billy Soose of Farrell, Pa., is shown with Ernie Vigh, Newburgh, New York, where they are to fight Feb. 7. Soose is the former Penn State college boxing champion.

Titans Prepare For Waynesburg Game

(Special to The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 7.—Still setting the scoring-pace for the Westminster Titans is Charles "Buzz" Ridd, with 109 points in ten games.

Westminster will depend on Ridd for a generous shower of points this Saturday night, February 8, when the Titans meet the powerful Waynesburg Jackets on the New Wilmington floor.

Ridd was last year's high-point scorer, as a sophomore, with 177 points in 18 games.

For the first time in three years, Westminster will test its zone-defense against Waynesburg in an attempt to stop the high-scoring Jacket quintet, which in the last four games with the Titans has scored 207 points to 184 for the Blue and White.

Tied for district honors at present, Westminster will drop into second place if they fail to outscore the Waynesburg cagers here Saturday night.

DOYLE, DUNLEVY MAIN SPEAKERS

Lawrence County Baseball League To Banquet In Ellwood City

Chilly Doyle, Pittsburgh baseball writer and Jack Dunlevy, president of the Butler Yankees will be the principal speakers at the Lawrence County Baseball league which will be held in the Moose club at Ellwood City, February 19, it was stated today by League Secretary James Martin of Bessemer.

Secretary Martin also stated that the league would hold a meeting February 12 in the Sports Goods store, this city.

Sportsmen Meet Tuesday Evening

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association will hold their monthly meeting in the Veterans of Foreign War Hall, East Washington street, on Tuesday evening starting at 8 o'clock.

Several items of importance will be discussed. If a movie on fishing arrives, it will be shown following the session. Officials remind sportsmen not to forget their membership.

JUNIOR CHURCH LEAGUE

There are four more games listed for the junior church basketball league at the "Y" Saturday as follows: At 4 o'clock the Wesley team meets the St. Marys boys; at 6:15 o'clock the Epworths battle the First Presbyterians, the other two games will follow in this order: First U. P. vs First Christians, and First Methodists vs Third U. P.

Nocera Stars; Wesleyan Wins

Paced by Vic "Blackie" Nocera, ex-New Castle high cager artist, West Virginia Wesleyan scored a 57-42 victory over Bethany, Thursday night at Bethany.

Nocera hit the mesh for 23 points, ringing up 10 double-doubles and a trio of charity tosses.

BROWNIE PITCHER HAS GOOD RECORD

Maurice Newlin, the St. Louis Brown rookie pitcher, comes highly recommended.

Since 1939 Newlin has won 50 victories, against 14 losses. For San Antonio last season Newlin bagged 23 wins against eight losses. In 1939 he won 26 and lost six for Topeka.

Last season he won his only start for the Browns.

DODGERS GRAB MILLS, PITCHER

Those busy Brooklyn Dodgers have taken another step in the hope of bolstering the pitching department for the coming season.

Howard Mills, a 16 ft.-handed pitcher who toiled for the St. Louis Browns during the past couple of seasons, has been sold to the Dodgers, on a conditional basis.

WOMEN LIKE TO FISH TOO

Fishing is developing into quite a sport among women.

Figures released recently disclose that more than 220,000 women purchased licenses to fish in the United States in the 1939-40 season. The figures represent an increase of 300 per cent over the previous season.

Gersons-Falcons To Play Sunday

The Arena floor will no doubt be packed this coming Sunday when the Polish Falcons pay a visit to the large court for a return game with the strong Gerson basketball team. The preliminary at 2 o'clock will find the Booker T. Washington team playing a team of full-blooded Seneca Indians from Salamanca, N. Y.

TRAINING GRIND IS NEARLY OVER

Horne And Delarado Hope To Escape Last Minute Injuries

Sonny Horne of Niles and Ted Delarado of East Liverpool, rival welterweights, will end heavy training Saturday in preparation for their three-round A. A. U. boxing bout in The Arena, Monday night.

Trainers of both boys have reported they are in splendid condition and have ordered the fighters to do nothing but light calisthenics Sunday to avoid possible cuts in sparring bouts.

Horne won the Plain Dealer welterweight championship while 9000 people watched on a week ago. Delarado is said to possess the title in West Virginia where he is a favorite fighter.

Billy Reale will oppose Buddy Burke of Pittsburgh, Russell Baxter will box George King of New Brighton and Rollin Horne of Niles will take on Jimmy Richardson of Chester. There will be four other bouts.

Factor Girls Win Fourth Straight

The Factor Variety girls basketball team journeyed to the Steubenville High floor last night and defeated the strong Hoovers of Canton, O., 19 to 11 in a preliminary to the Steubenville Big Five and San Francisco Chinks game.

The Variety girls held the Canton team scoreless the first half, leading 9 to 0. It was 13 to 7 at the end of the third period and in the last period the local lassies scored six points to four for the Hoovers.

Scoring stars for the Factors were Jerry Gall, Kate Smith and Jean Cerutti. Best for the losers were Martha Richards and Jean Cranmer.

Church League Games Tonight

There are three games listed for the New Castle church basketball league tonight, the first game starting at 7:45 o'clock will find the Second U. P. meeting the Epworth five.

The St. Marys team battles the First Presbyterians in the second game, and in the third game the First Methodist team meets the fast St. George Greek quintet.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Two members of the Ohio College of Chiropractic basketball team, died in a two-car crash south of Ravenna yesterday. They are Paul Wasser, and William Caplan, both of Detroit.

Fannins Defeat Aliquippa Five

The Fannin basketball team went to Aliquippa last night and defeated the Aliquippa Clippers in a close game 38 to 37, with Cooper and Mumford the leading scorers. The Aliquippa team led the first-half 17 to 14.

Hodonovich and Zagar were the best for the losers. The game at Salem tonight has been cancelled by the Salem club.

Cooper Is Leading Scorer For Saints

Joe Cooper, talented forward for the St. Vitus five, ranks as the leading scorer in the county.

Cooper has amassed 245 points in 15 games played to date.

The undefeated Saints have poured in 823 marks; so far.

St. Vitus desires games with the Polish Falcons, St. Michaels, Old Furnace, New Castle Indians, Fannins, Booker T. Wash., or any other fast clubs. Tony Kane Morgan is manager.

Jenkins Favors Vigh

And we saw Lightweight Champion Lew Jenkins today taking the short end of 8 to 1, that he couldn't pick the winners of the main event and two semi-finals in tonight's show in the Garden. Lew picked Ernie Vigh to beat Billy Soose.

Al Nettlow to beat Bob Montgomery...and Leo Rodak to beat Lenny Mancini...in other words Lew picked all three shortenders for his parlay.

Dick Reynolds...Brown university tub thumper...is showing everybody a letter he just received from Justus Kretzmann dated Nov. 2.

Nigeria Africa, saying he just heard the Brown-Yale game by short wave and wishing Dick a merry Christmas.

Ralph Metcalfe...the old Olympic sprint champion...now coaching Xavier of New Orleans...is sending up a sprinter, hurdler and miler for the big indoor track meets in the Garden.

And Dan (A.U.) Ferris is going to be terribly hurt...if Georgetown's Al Blozis...fails to put the shot 56 feet for a new world indoor mark this winter...Selah.

Dozen Yankees Are Holdouts

Ed Barrow Will Have Time In Signing Joe DiMaggio This Year Is Belief

BABE RUTH HAS BIRTHDAY EVENT

(By PAT ROBINSON)
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Along Broadway today we find...Ed Barrow...scowling with the world's busiest eyebrows...over his dozen Yankee holdouts...including Joe DiMaggio and most of the other Yankee regulars.

The players must have heard that the Yanks' net profit averaged around $300,000 for each of the last 10 seasons...which may be one reason why Jim Farley is so eager to buy the club.

The American league now boasts four players in the $30,000 brackets...Hank Greenberg, Buck Newsom, Bob Feller and Joe DiMaggio...but it is doubtful that any of the three highest paid National leaguers...Billy Herman, Joe Medwick and Mel Ott...receive more than $20,000.

Ruth 47 Today

And speaking of salaries...Babe Ruth...who once drew $80,000 from the Yanks...is 47 years young today...and still is as ambitious as ever to manage a major league club.

Bill Hargiss...Kansas track coach who developed Glenn Cunningham...thinks he has another Cunningham in Ray Harris...a trim blond kid...who Hargiss says...can turn in a 4:10 mile any time he takes the blanket off.

Laugh of the week...Philadelphia Promoter Herman Taylor who is staging the Joe Louis-Gus Dorazio title bout there Feb. 17...says Gus has just as good a chance to beat Jack Dempsey.

The Arlington Park track made a nice sentimental gesture in calling one of its stage races...the Equipoise mile...in honor of the horse that won the world record for the distance...1:34-2/4...that still stands.

And old fans will be glad to know that old Pete Alexander...who won more than 100 games in three years for the Phillies...can have a job with the semi-pro congress...at $250 a week...autographing balls for the crowds.

West Side Quarry Workmen Send 73 Dimes To President

Seventy-three workers at the West Side WPA quarry project—to Work Projects Administration men it's No. 27458—have contributed a dime apiece to President Roosevelt's "March of Dimes" to combat infantile paralysis.

The $7.30 has been sent direct to the White House.

The quarry group, it was recalled, was the first in Pennsylvania to hold a flag-raising ceremony on its work site and it is believed it is the first to make a 100 percent dime contribution.

"And we're proud of it," Committeeman Harry H. Glich said. Lou Harlan has supervision over the project.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

Ever since council gave their permission to close certain streets for sled riding . . . there hasn't been any snow . . . it looks like maybe snow will come again . . . but on the other hand all snow has not melted . . . for instance; coating on the site of the old dinky track at the rear of Epworth Church has been continuous. There are a number of motorists however using the locality that might exercise a little more consideration and refrain from the sort of driving that tears up the track. The parking lot at the rear of the church is not a thoroughfare and the church reserves the right to close it if the interests and safety of the children demands it . . . the pastor at that way has been doing some fine work on this sled business . . . winter isn't too bad if you look at it in the right way.

We mentioned the other day about dumping tin cans in the fields and yards of our country cousins . . . in response to that plea we received this bit of advice . . . the person writing the note said they were against dumping rubbish in the country but they wished we would mention the fact that some country cousins come to town on Saturday and eat their dinners in their cars . . . they buy ice cream and the like from grocery stores . . . then throw the empty containers out on the street . . . maybe some thought can be used on both sides of this topic.

According to a report that has just reached us from city hall . . . this street car bus proposition might be brought to a head some time next week . . . certain important data is now being compiled and when it is read into council minutes maybe an agreement will be reached . . . we hope that things work out for the good of the community. Progress is our motto here in New Castle.

Just in case you have forgotten . . . birds and wild life that make their homes near human homes in winter, sometimes find it rather difficult to secure food . . . if you put out a few bread crumbs now and then it will help lots . . . a good turn in this manner never hurt anyone . . . the simple things in life are what count when all is said and done.

Remember the classified ad page . . . keep it handy at all times.

Most Important Aspects
For Happy Marriages

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 7.—Choosing the right mate, learning to live congenially together, having children, and growing old together are the four most important aspects of a happy marriage, according to Dr. Donald Matthews, Westminster college biology department, and coordinator of the Westminster marriage relations course.

Of the four points, "choosing a mate" is the most important, the biologist believes. He lists four ways of choosing a mate: random, assortive, preferential, and selective.

"Random mating assumes that love is blind, which is a very dangerous assumption," Dr. Matthews says. "Assortive mating supposes that like attracts like, that a very tall man will likely marry a fairly tall girl."

"Preferential mating results in people marrying within their own group," according to Dr. Matthews, "such as a farmer marrying a farmer's daughter. Selective mating would involve a husband and a wife knowing a great deal about one another, including parentage, state of health, and frank disclosures of financial and intimate problems connected with marriage."

Dr. Matthews laments the passing of the "old family album," with its records of "aunts, uncles, cousins, grand-parents, and sisters and brothers." Such records would aid materially in convincing a young couple that they really were in love with one another.

Dr. Matthews was appointed coordinator of the marriage relations course this year by the administration, following popular demand for such a course from the student-body and The Holcad, Westminster weekly newspaper.

Greenville Man
Not Yet Located

Authorities have not yet located Victor G. Deikler, 43 year old manufacturer of Greenville, who has been missing since Sunday night after going to his office to place $600, in a safe. Bloodstains were found in his office and his car was located in Youngstown. According to reports the FBI has joined in the search.

NEW YORKER DIES
IN ARIZONA HOME

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 7.—Max Annenberg, 61, circulation manager of the New York Daily News, died early today at his winter home in a suburb of Phoenix.

He had been in poor health ever since he was injured in an automobile accident in New York several months ago.

Annenberg and members of his family came to Phoenix a few weeks ago to spend the winter.

WESTMINSTER WILL NOT BE AFFECTED
BY MUSIC WAR

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 7.—In spite of the radio-war between ASCAP and BMI, Westminster college will be allowed to proceed in its weekly broadcasts from the campus over station WKST, New Castle, as if all were "peace and quiet."

The college, by virtue of broadcasting educational and religious programs, will be allowed use of all musical compositions, both ASCAP and BMI, since free-time is granted by the radio station, and since the college programs are unsponsored.

Westminster will begin broadcasting twice each week over WKST beginning Monday, February 17.

MAY VACATE STREET
Councilman W. H. Dunlap today indicated the city would vacate a section of Glass Street near the Shenango Pottery. The company owns all the abutting land.
